This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at `http://books.google.com/`

OBITUARIES.

Texas Conference.

ROBERT R. ROBERTS was born in Gilmer County, Tex., May 7, 1851, and would have been thirty-eight years old had he lived five days longer. He had been in feeble health for several years. Notwithstanding bodily affliction, he had gone to all his appointments and attended to his duties like a hero. He was converted when a boy fifteen years old, and lived a consistent Christian until his death, May 2, 1889, at Texarkana, Tex. He married a Miss Gregg in 1871, who lived only three years after their marriage. He joined Texas Conference in 1874, and was stationed at Palestine. There he organized our Church and built the first church, in which the Methodists worshiped until a more commodious one was built by Rev. Peter Morgan. He served that church two years. During his last year there (1876) he married Mrs. Susie Alines, who survives him. His next appointment was Paris (1977), which he served one year. He was next appointed to Cooper, and remained there two years. From there he went to Clarksville, and there the first year conducted a successful revival, which resulted in more than a hundred conversions. He served this charge two years—1880 and 1881. In 1882 he was sent to Marshall Circuit, that he might have a chance to attend Wiley University. He had a burning desire for a thorough education, and he deprived himself and family of money and comforts for an education. In 1883 he was stationed at Mount Vernon, Houston, where he succeeded grandly. His second and last year there was marked by a glorious revival, there being converted more than fifty souls, most of whom were men. In 1885 he was stationed at Brenham, but was immediately afterward changed by Bishop Harris to Saint Paul, Galveston. He served that charge only one year, and was stationed next year (1886) at Mallalieu Chapel, Marshall; 1887 at Clarksville, and Texarkana in 1889. The Texas Conference has sustained a heavy loss in the death of Brother Roberts. He was an able minister, beloved in his Conference and by his brethren.

ALLEN HARRIS, who fell asleep in Jesus at Spring, May 3, 1889, has been abundant in labors for Christ and Methodism in southern and western Texas for a number of years. On Friday, December 16, 1870, he was received into the Texas Conference, then comprising the entire State of Texas, and elected to deacon's orders, but was not at that Conference ordained. The Texas Conference had been organized but three years when he was admitted as one of its honored members. His first appointment was Victoria. Subsequently he served the following places: Indianola, Spring Circuit, Montgomery, Willis, Danville, Sloan Street, Houston; Spring Circuit again. He was a part of this time on the superannuates' list, but was willing to work, and did stand to his post till death smote him down. As a minister, he was faithful to Christ; as a Methodist, he was loyal to the polity and doctrines of the old Church of his choice. He was a kind father, a loving husband, a confiding friend, a genial associate, and a beautiful type of what a Christian man ought to be. He fell asleep triumphing in the Christian faith.

GEORGE W. SMITH was born in Alexandria, Va., in 1840. After growing up there under the old system till he was seventeen years old he was brought to Texas, and lived a number of years around San Antonio, thence around Fort Worth, where he spent two years. He moved from here to Austin, Tex., where he met and wedded Miss Eveline Smith, August 4, 1861. It was during his sojourn at Austin that he was happily converted to God and joined Wesley Chapel, then and now the largest Methodist Episcopal church in Texas. He joined the first session of the West Texas Conference, at Austin, in 1874. His first appointment was at San Antonio, next at Indianola, serving at the latter place two years, building up and giving influence to our Methodism there. From this place he went to Lavaca, thence to Columbus, where he served the Church faithfully two years, adding to the Church many souls and building up the people in Christian truth. He was next stationed at La Grange, also serving this church two years. At the close of his second year at La Grange he was transferred to the Texas Conference, and stationed at the Galveston West Tabernacle Church, and during a term of two years he showed himself a minister that needeth not to be ashamed. He was next called to the responsible position of presiding elder on the Palestine District, where he proved himself a success, winning the love and esteem of all his brethren. After serving out his term of four years on this district, he was appointed, in 1887, presiding elder of the Navasota District, which he served very successfully until summoned suddenly, at Marshall, May 31, 1889, while visiting and encouraging the educational work at Wiley University. As a minister, Brother Smith was as a flame of fire. As a man, he was most careful, upright, and discreet—always on time, and doing what ought to be done at the proper time and place. As a father, he was tender and affectionate. As a husband, he was faithful, true, and devoted to his wife. As a Christian, he was happy, cheerful, full of sunshine, loyal to Christ and his cause. As a Methodist, he was ardent, zealous, and loyal to the standard of the old Church and its polity—always defending her when such was needed, and never failed to go to one of his appointments. He has gone to his reward.

SAMUEL ALLEN died at his home April 27, 1889, full of hope and triumph of a blessed immortality. His services to the churches have been many. We have sustained in him a great loss. His wife also followed him to the land beyond, December 27, 1889, praising God for his perfect salvation.

South Carolina Conference.

JAMES WOFFORD WHITE, the subject of this memoir, was born at Lynchburg, Sumter County, S. C., October 20, 1856, and peacefully fell asleep in Jesus January 7, 1890, in the thirty-fourth year of his age. At an early age he embraced religion and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was among the first students of Claflin University, which he attended for several scholastic years. From Claflin he went to the State University of South Carolina at Columbia, but was not graduated. He was in 1880 used as a supply at Yorkville Station. In 1881 he was admitted on trial into the South Carolina Conference. Until his death he filled acceptably many of the best appointments in the Conference. In the pulpit and on the floor of the Conference his arguments were convincing, his eloquence powerful and logical, and he never failed to make the desired impressions and carry his points. Every church he served since his admission into the Conference was materially improved, more or less, as well as spiritually edified and built up in the most holy faith. He was a reserve delegate to the General Conference of 1888, which met in New York city. The closing hours of his life were filled with praises of Him whom he had faithfully preached for ten years. He raised his emaciated hand toward heaven and waved a salute, saying: "Yes, Master Jesus, we are coming!" Just before he expired he said, "It is beautiful before the sun goes down." He lies buried in Charleston, between the two churches he last served by appointment.

Little Rock Conference.

JOHN R. FRAZIER was born November 27, 1857 in Tipher County, Miss. He acquired a partial education at Rust University at Holly Springs. Was married to Miss Anna Suggs January 18, 1881. Came to Arkansas in the fall of 1882. Was converted at Conway, in Faulkner County, in 1883. Entered the ministry in 1884. He served the following appointments in the Little Rock Conference: Clarendon, Saulsburg, Forest City, Mariana. He was appointed to Batesville, but died before reaching his appointment. Brother Frazier was a conscientious and faithful minister and died in peace. He leaves a wife and three children to mourn his loss.

HENRY MCDONALD was admitted on trial in the Little Rock Conference in 1885 and served the following appointments: Russelville, Atkins, Batesville Circuit, and Newport. He died in the triumph of faith at Arlington, Tenn., December 30, 1889, after a lingering illness. His last words were: "Tell the bishop and brethren of my Conference farewell. I have finished my course and am crossing over."

Mississippi Conference.

DANIEL A. WILLIAMS was born February 3, 1839, and was converted to God under the preaching of Rev. James A. Godfry when a boy nine years of age, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. During the late war he moved North and joined the Union army, when the war ended he united with the African Methodist Episcopal Church and was stationed at Omaha, Neb. From there he was sent to Chicago, and there he acted as book agent for his Church. On his return South he again united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Church of his first love. Brother Williams joined the Mississippi Conference January 19, 1876, at Grenada, and was appointed to Clinton Circuit. He served as pastor at Grenada in 1877, 1878, 1879, and was very faithful and a successful pastor. He was appointed presiding elder over the Jackson District by Bishop Harris, and served it faithfully for four years. He served upon the Okolona District for three years. Bishop Merrill appointed him presiding elder upon the Yazoo City District. At our last Annual Conference session, doubtless, he nor his brethren had any idea of his death so early, and that he would never gaze upon them again. But such proved to be the case, for he closed his eyes in death at Roseneath upon his district May 12, 1889, away from wife and children. During his illness he spoke of heaven and eternal glory with assurance of his acceptance with God. The calling of his name on the first day of this Conference awakened no response, and it will be discontinued hereafter.

Wilmington Conference.

WILLIAM MERRILL was born in Compton, N. H., May 11, 1814, and died in Upper Fairmount, Md., October 23, 1889. He commenced preaching in the Philadelphia Conference in 1848, and served the following circuits and stations in the Philadelphia and Wilmington Conferences: Milford, Dover, Bridgeville, Annamessex, Newtown, Berlin, Laurel, Accomac, Willow Grove, Kent Island, Fairmount, Georgetown, East New Market, Milton. In 1871 he was appointed to the Classical Institute at Laurel, Del., and remained there till 1873, when he became principal of Fairmount Academy. In 1878 he took a supernumerary relation. From that time he taught private scholars at his house in Upper Fairmount, Md. The ripe scholar, the excellent teacher, the clear and logical preacher has left us. On the still autumn morning, when "God's finger touched him and he slept" the neighborhood lost a pillar of strength and the Church one of its warmest friends.

North-west Kansas Conference.

RICHARD ALEXANDER CARUTHERS was born in Armstrong County, Pa., March 21, 1819, and died in Bristow, Osborne County, Kan., May 27, 1889. By a singular providence he was early attracted to Methodism, and in 1843 was soundly converted to God and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was faithful in his religious duties, developing a strong and earnest Christian life and character, and by reading and study became thoroughly acquainted with the doctrines of Christianity as taught in the Bible and standards of Methodism. In 1841 he married Miss Nancy Cooke who with five children survives him. July, 1848, he was received on trial in the Erie Conference and appointed to Ridgaway Mission, in Pennsylvania. During several succeeding years he traveled large circuits over the mountains of western Pennsylvania, always bringing to Conference good reports of souls converted and the work of the Church advanced on all lines. During the next eight years he served as presiding elder, first on the Clarion and then on the New Castle District. After spending one year in Oil City Station, and four years as presiding elder on Fredonia District, he transferred in 1874 to the Kansas Conference. The first four years of his work in Kansas was in the eastern part of the State; one at Baldwin, one at North Lawrence, and two at Tecumseh. In 1878 he was appointed to the charge of Kirwin District, and during the next four years was in labors abundant, organizing and supervising the work on his new and difficult field, encouraging and inspiring his preachers, going East at one time to plead for them in their poverty and want when drought and hot winds had cut off their supplies, and sending back money, food, and clothing that they might not be compelled to abandon their work. After this he served the Bristow charge two years, Osborne two years, and one year as agent of the Kansas Wesleyan University. This completed the years of his effective labor. Three years ago he reluctantly asked for a superannuated relation, the most painful act of his itinerant career. In December, 1887, he contracted a severe cold in a revival meeting, which developed into hemorrhage of the lungs and cancer of the stomach. Gradually but surely he went down to death. He was patient and trustful during his long illness, longing for his hour of departure, and exclaiming as he neared the end of the journey, "I am almost home." Though not emotional or demonstrative in his religious exercises, he had a firm faith and a well-grounded hope of eternal life. He excelled as a preacher, not so much in elegant language or flights of oratory as in great truths clothed in plain, forceful English. He was a wise counselor, a firm friend, and had the confidence of his brethren. Four times they elected him to represent them in the General Conference, and he was prominently associated with the Chautauqua movement in its incipiency.

Wyoming Conference.

EDWARD DENISON was born in East Haddam, Conn., October 28, 1804. In 1821 he was converted, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. August 17, 1826, he was married to Miss Louisa Gardner. He was received on trial in the Oneida Conference August, 1833, and appointed junior preacher on Sharon Circuit. He served the following charges: Otego Circuit, Litchfield, Winfield, Canajoharie, Brookfield, Lyoma and Plymouth, Sharon. On this charge by hard labor and exposure his health became impaired so that he was compelled to superannuate. This relation he sustained to 1846, when he was appointed to Decatur Charge, which he served two years. 1848 he was appointed to Otego Circuit. Here his health partially failed, so that at the next Conference he was made a supernumerary. In this relation he served Oneonta and Portlandville two years. In 1852 he was made effective and appointed to Otsego Circuit. During the year he was disabled by sickness, and at the Conference of 1853 was again superannuated. In 1855 his relation was changed to supernumerary and he was appointed to Worcester Charge, which he served one year with much physical weakness. He was engaged for several years in the distribution of the Bible and other religious literature, and preaching in different churches as invited. He continued in this work till the next affliction came in the loss of his beloved wife, September 9, 1877. For about two years his eye-sight had been failing, and while preaching in one of the churches on Laurens Charge, to use Brother Denison's own words, "The light faded out of his eyes like the going down of the sun." He said the greatest trial connected with his affliction was the fear that the Bible henceforth would be a sealed book unto him. As a wonderful relief he tells us that one day while holding in his hand his wife's Bible, and seeing but dimly the outlines of its pages, holding it close to his eyes as if he might perchance make out some words, the assurance of the Master to his disciples came to his memory, "I will bring to your remembrance whatsoever I have spoken unto you." In 1870 he moved to Portlandville, N. Y. At about three months after losing his eye-sight he preached at Jacksonville, N. Y., by request, and from that time at intervals supplied pulpits of his brethren, and in some instances conducted protracted meetings in outlying districts. As a preacher Brother Denison was sound in theology and clear in statement. His sermons were models of perspicuity and strength, and the mental grasp by which he seized the salient points of the Scriptures rendered his sermons interesting, instructive, and profitable. Brother Denison's final attack by the hand of disease occurred May 3, and fatally terminated May 8.

Peter S. Worden was born in Smyrna, N. Y., March 27, 1817, and died in Binghamton, July 28, 1889, aged seventy-two years. After being early scripturally and soundly converted it was also natural that he should whisper to his mother what the Spirit had already whispered to him as to his divine call to the Christian ministry. Never doubting it, she sorted into the saddle-bags what she could ill spare, and blessed him as, by the early and usual mode of going, he rode on horseback from her door and began fifty years of valuable, honest, itinerant work. On his first charge he met a matured woman of aptness, piety, and sense, who later was his helpful wife. For forty and seven years she aided him, as few women know how to help an itinerant preacher, and then halted in her weary way and went to receive her reward. After a becoming time he married a most worthy lady, Mrs. Boyce, who mourns his loss. The distinctive elements of worth were many and marked in our brother whom we mention and mourn to-day. He was a gentleman; and that is no mean acquirement. He was a student. For fifty years he read the best things that the brainiest men on any side of any sea were writing. He was a soul winner. Not physically magnetic, yet steadily he drew irreligious men to him and led them into the kingdom of our Lord. He was a spiritual tutor. Among the charges that he served were Waverly, Tunkhannock, Court Street, Binghamton; and Page Brook twice each, Berkshire three times, Union, Carbondale, and several others. For several years he was superannuated, but it was always a pleasure to have him near, and we miss him now that he is gone.

William H. Olin was born in the town of Laurens, Otsego County, N. Y., January 5, 1821, and died at Dexter, Mich., September 16, 1889, while en route to a reunion of his kindred at Galesburg, in the same State. While his death was sudden and apparently painless the state of his health for nearly a year gave those more intimately associated with him occasion for anxiety. The writer visited him the week preceding his journey and found him resolute to undertake the same, but manifestly seriously unwell. As the plan of the quarterly visitation brought him to Oneonta the following Sunday it was suggested, in view of the precarious state of his health, and the long journey before him, and also in view of the extra labor involved in the special sermon he was to deliver at the reunion, that he take the Sabbath for rest and recuperation. "Well," said he, "we will see." When the Sabbath came he preached at Laurens in the morning, and in the evening at Oneonta a sermon that was a masterpiece of sacred oratory. It was a striking coincidence that his last two sermons were preached—the one at Laurens, where he was born, and the other at Oneonta, where he was converted and licensed to preach. He was licensed to preach, and joined the Oneida Conference, in 1851. In 1853 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Simpson, and two years later elder by Bishop Ames. He soon became prominent and influential. When the Oneida Conference ceased to be by the division of its territory into several Conferences the allotment made him a member of the Central New York Conference, in which he remained until 1869, when he was transferred to the Wyoming Conference and stationed at Centenary Church, Binghamton. For seventeen and a half years he was in the presiding eldership, and he was a member of the General Conference consecutively from 1860 to 1888. He was for some time a member of the Book Committee and of the General Missionary Committee. Dr. Olin was a man of strong and impressive personality. Manliness was stamped upon his every feature. For sycophancy he had an utter loathing. With him it was morally impossible to "crook the pregnant hinges of the knee where thrift may follow fawning." It was this moral stalwartness that gave him such a continuous hold upon the Church. Men felt that they could trust him. This was the fundamental element of his power over others. If he had a special pre-eminence it was as an administrator. His mind was cast in the judicial mold. His administrative ability led some to infer that he derived this from his legal training. No inference could be more untrue. A judicial mind is born—not manufactured in a law office. He possessed the weighing and balancing faculty in a remarkable degree and had a deep and comprehensive mind. He was a thinker alert to the freshest thought of the day. He was a student. He was an inquirer and a questioner. Positive in belief, he never assumed to be wise above what was written. He recognized the limitations of the human mind. Dr. Olin was twice married—in 1846 to Miss Emily A. Reed, of Oneonta, and February 4, 1857 to Miss Melissa E. Watkins, of the same place, who survives him.

Vincent M. Coryell was born in the town of Tioga, N. Y., June, 1800, and died in Waverly, N. Y., November 5, 1889, being four months past eighty-nine years of age. He was licensed to exhort by John Griffin in 1825, and soon after received license to preach, and began his work as an itinerant on the old Tioga Circuit. In 1828 he was received on trial in the old Genessee Conference, which at that time embraced in its territory the now Wyoming and the dear old Oneida Conferences. "With the horse my father gave me, my clothes and books in my saddle-bags, I went the rounds of my first circuit happy in the Lord," was his manner of reference to those days. And for more than sixty years his name has appeared in the Conference roll and been called annually. A look at the list of his "appointments" makes manifest the honored place he filled in the Church and the valued service he rendered during the days of his effective relation to the Conference. Appointments and duties which at that early day were considered most important were committed to his charge. It was his exceeding comfort that, in referring to his active ministry, he was able to mention so many souls preciously saved and brought into the Church. He counted some three thousand converted. Twelve of the number became ministers, one of whom was Dr. Wm. Reddy. Every pastoral charge he served save one—Cooperstown—was visited with a marked revival influence. He was forced by his own judgment to take a superannuated relation in 1859, his heart throbbing with love for the work, but health and circumstances requiring a halt. His home during these years of superannuation was in Waverly, where the pastor and church received his heartiest co-operation and prayers. For some years his health was such that he was not able to visit the house of God, but the frequent visits of the pastor were anticipated and highly appreciated, and Church interests were the sole topic of conversation. Of the giants of those early times Vincent M. Coryell was one. His religion was stalwart. Dogmas and teachings of whatever sort that antagonized truth as he understood it, and interpreted by the Methodist standards, were brought speedily to judgment by his logic and address. But his personal experience was pre-eminent. He talked and walked with God. His soul flashed the light with which it was permeated. It could never be said of him truthfully "he presented truth as though it were fiction." He found the illustrations of the Gospel he preached in his own soul. His last words and conversation were about Jesus and his love.

William Bixby was born at Bainbridge, N. Y., in 1814, and died December 20, 1889. He was converted at seventeen, and immediately united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. Having a clear call to the ministry he determined to secure the best preparation possible, and so obtained a thorough academical education at Cazenovia Seminary. In 1837 he joined Oneida Conference, in which he remained until the territory where he labored was thrown into the Wyoming Conference. His pastoral record, covering fifty-three years, is as follows: Chenango, Exeter, Otsego, Cooperstown, Homer, Oxford, Otsego, Hartwick, Cincinnatus, Ames, presiding elder of Chenango District, presiding elder of Cazenovia District, Ithaca, Skaneateles, presiding elder of Otsego District, presiding elder of Honesdale District, Owego, Providence, Marathon, presiding elder of Binghamton District, Marathon, supernumerary, Gilbertsville, Westville, Lanesborough, superannuation, Nanticoke. In November, 1888, after the death of Rev. D. C. Olmstead, he was appointed to supply Nanticoke until Conference, but such was his efficiency and rare acceptability that his return for the following year was unanimously requested by the church. Bishop Foss, in making the appointment, said it was extraordinary to place a man seventy-five years old in charge of a church requiring the services of a vigorous, active pastor, but in this case it seemed the proper and only thing to do, not merely to gratify the church so earnestly asking for him, but as an example and inspiration to the older men of the Conference. The results certainly vindicated the wisdom of the appointment. Though presiding elder of five different districts, and twice a member of the General Conference, William Bixby will be longest remembered for his pulpit talents and genuine Christian manliness. On the fields where he labored forty years ago his name is still held in great veneration and affectionate memory. In 1841 he married Laura Stewart Starr, of Bristol, Pa., who bore him two sons, one of whom, Charles W., survives. After her death in 1883 he made his home with his sister, Mrs. L. Scott, of Bainbridge, N. Y., where, on December 20, in the full faith of the Gospel, he died in holy triumph.

George Chapman Lewis was born October 10, 1851, in Montrose, Pa., and died at his home in Bradford, Pa., January 6, 1890. He was of Methodist parentage, and was converted while attending school at Wyoming Seminary, Kingston, Pa., January 21, 1877, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, under the pastorate of Henry Wheeler, now of the Philadelphia Conference. Soon after he believed himself called to the Christian ministry and began to prepare himself for that work. After completing his studies at Wyoming Seminary he pursued a course of three years in Drew Theological Seminary, at Madison, N. J. In April, 1882, he entered the itinerancy in the Wyoming Conference, and was stationed at Pleasant Valley, remaining two years, greatly strengthening the charge. In 1884 he was appointed to the Hampton Street station in the city of Scranton, and served that charge for three years. Here he succeeded in building a parsonage and paying the debt on the church property. During this pastorate his health so far failed that at the Conference of 1887 he was obliged to give up the effective work of his holy calling. With a view to regaining strength for future service he tried a change of climate and every means within his reach, but all seemed of no avail; his work was done. During the five years of his active ministry Brother Lewis proved himself a valuable member of the Conference and an able and successful minister of the Lord Jesus. His labors were blest in winning souls to Christ and in building up the material interests of the Church. Brother Lewis was united in marriage with Miss Kate A. Flock, of Pleasant Valley, Pa., on June 12, 1884.

Levi Pitts was born in Middlefield, N. Y., June 18, 1807, and died at his home in Binghamton, N. Y., February 2, 1890, aged eighty-two years. January 10, 1827, at Danby, N. Y., he was married to Betsy Clock, and lovingly walked the path of life with her until February 21, 1888, when she died. In 1859, at Norwich, N. Y., he joined the Oneida Conference, and has served the following charges: Windsor, Greene, Broome, Lisle, Spencer, Flemingsville, Orwell, Page Brook, Osborn Hollow, South Danby, North Danby, Vestal, Union, Page Brook, Van Ettenville, Broome, Hawleyton, Osborn Hollow, Harpersville, Kirkwood, Page Brook, Broome, superannuated, Osborn Hollow, Union Center. From 1875 up to the time of his death he lived in his own home, secured to him by careful business habits and the frugality of earlier years. Brother Pitts was a man with marked characteristics, a ready wit, a strong will, and an unyielding devotion to what he conceived to be the right. With a clear Christian experience, always satisfactory to himself, it is not strange that he should become a great revivalist, and many will rise up to-day and call him blessed. He died in peace.

East German Conference.

Christian Blinn was born September 15, 1828, in Winterbach, Bavaria, and died November 21, 1889, in Kansas City, Mo. At the age of seventeen he emigrated to this country. In 1849 he was united in marriage to Miss Henrietta Diehl, and in the same year, converted to God, joined with his young wife the German Methodist Episcopal Church in Williamsburg, N. Y. For a few years he was employed by the Brooklyn Tract and Bible Society, then joined the New York Conference in 1856. In this, and later in the East German Conference, he filled the following appointments: Long Island Circuit, N. Y.; Dunkirk, N. Y.; Rochester, N. Y.; Schenectady, N. Y.; Roxbury, Mass.; Fortieth Street, New York; Second Street, New York. His health failing he was granted a supernumerary relation in 1869. Still his interest in the work of the Lord was unabated, and while a supernumerary he took charge from 1870–71 of the then Twelfth Street Mission in the city of New York; from 1874–77 of Saint Paul's Church, Fifty-fifth Street, New York; and in 1878 of the Port Mission in New York. For many years he was a trustee of the last-named mission; for three years he was a trustee of the German Wallace College at Berea, O. In 1884 he was a member of the General Conference, which elected him to represent the thirteenth district in the General Committee on Missions and Church Extension. Though not a member of the succeeding General Conference, he was re-elected to this committee in 1888. While attending this committee in Kansas City he was stricken down and died, leaving to his family and to the Church the unsullied memory of an earnest, faithful, and loving husband, father, brother, and friend. Brother Blinn was a clear thinker and a shrewd business man. He was a successful pastor. After giving up the active work in the ministry he had the ability of acquiring quite a fortune. He built of his own means the German Saint Paul's Church in New York and deeded it to the East German Conference. He also built and endowed the Blinn College at Brenham, Tex., and in view of his growing interest and financial ability these gifts were only promises of greater things.

New Jersey Conference.

Noah Edwards was born in Barnegat, N. J., July 22, 1809. He was converted at a camp-meeting held at Goodluck, N. J., in 1828. He at once joined the Church and became a zealous Christian. In 1839 he entered the New Jersey Conference. His appointments were: New Egypt, Lambertville, Toms River, Swedesborough, Salem Circuit, Pitts Grove, Cumberland, Gloucester, Cape May, Blackwoodstown, Carpenter's Landing, Absecom, Bethesda, Imlaystown, Columbus, Newport, Unionville, Pedricktown, Center Square, Marlton, Bridgeborough, Hedding, and Delanco. Many of these were large and hard fields, yet he was joyful. Religion was to him such a verity that he talked about it to every body familiarly, attractively, and magnetically. He had a divine ambition for saving souls, and succeeded. As a pastor he would leave the "ninety and nine" and go after the lost one, and usually brought it back with joy. He was married in 1832 to Miss Hannah J. Downs, who died in 1886. Subsequently he married Miss Phœbe A. Hartshorn, of New Egypt, who survives him. In 1879 he became supernumerary, and afterward resided mostly in Haddonfield, where he labored as he was able, greatly beloved. After a protracted illness, during the last days of which he was unconscious, he passed, May 29, 1889, to his home in heaven.

Enoch Green was born in Clinton, N. J., October 18, 1825. In 1847 he was sent by Presiding Elder I. N. Felch as a supply on Vernon Circuit, and the next spring entered the Conference and was appointed to Stanhope. After four months he was changed to Barryville to fill a vacancy caused by the failing health of E. P. Cook. His after appointments were: Rockaway, Bloomingdale, Mount Horeb, Lambertville, Winslow and Waterford, Hightstown, Swedesborough, Long Branch, Pemberton, Clayton, Broad Street, Burlington; Woodstown, Woodbury, Bethel, Pennington, Gloucester City, Bridgeport, Cranbury, Allentown, Sayerville, Jacobstown and Embury, making over forty-one years in the effective work. By wide and varied reading he secured large stores of knowledge on general subjects, and by consecutive habit of study he became a scholar of respectable attainments, and was especially proficient in Greek and well up in Hebrew. He dwelt largely on subjects that required deep thought and strong mental grip. His work on the resurrection is among the best extant on the subject. He ranked high as a preacher, his sermons evincing a wide range of clear and vigorous thought, of earnest and impressive delivery, and a studied effort to be adapted and practical. They were generally acceptable, sometimes made a profound impression, and were always instructive and helpful to thoughtful people. Brother Green was married in 1850 to Martha A. Estelle, of Rockaway. Brother Green was long the victim of a terrible dyspepsia, and finally decided to go to the new hospital in Brooklyn for medical treatment. The day before he went he preached twice in his home pulpit with unwonted vigor and good effect. He had strong hopes of being restored to health and to his chosen and loved work, but Providence ordered otherwise. After five weeks in the hospital he fell asleep in Jesus June 30, 1889.

Samuel Ferguson Wheeler was born in New York, November 17, 1826, where he lived until he entered the ministry of our Church. He was modest, not accepting dubious praise or place, but was wont to reply, "My record is on high." Brother Relyea, his presiding elder, declares that a man more honest and frank never lived. Just before his death he carefully scrutinized his affairs and finding a half-dollar debit, gave strict orders for its payment. He contributed liberally and raised thereby unusually large collections annually in all his charges except this year, his sickness and death preventing. He married May 27, 1852, Miss Katharine, daughter of Rev. John W. Dennison, of Troy Conference, who survives him. He was converted in his fifteenth year in the Willett Street Church, New York. He entered the New Jersey Conference in 1857 and faithfully and successfully served Bridgeport Circuit, Bass River Circuit, Winslow, Willow Grove, Alloways-town, Unionville, Bethesda, Washington, First Church, Long Branch; Absecon, Foundry Church, Millville; Woodstown, Pemberton, Keyport, Freehold, Broad Street, Burlington; North Long Branch, Glasborough, Walnut Street, Salem; Cedarville and Paulsborough, making in all twenty-one charges throughout his ministry of thirty-one and a half years. "He was," says Sister Wheeler, "a daily student of the Scriptures," and during the last ten years his memorandum in his Oxford Bible shows that he had read the Old Testament through twelve times, and the New Testament thirteen. His preaching was well arranged, plain and vigorously illustrated, direct, positive, commanding, and utterly destitute of compromise. His unusual number of converts attest his ability, zeal, and piety. His sickness—typhoid fever—was short and painful, but he endured it "as seeing Him who is invisible." Thus passed away, on Sabbath evening, August 11, 1889, a loving husband and father, a true Christian and minister of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Lewis M. Atkinson was born near Woodstown, N. J., March 7, 1845, and died in Penn's Grove April 5, 1889, having lived forty-four years and twenty-eight days. In 1865 he entered Pennington Seminary as a student. In 1869 he was appointed by his presiding elder to supply what is now Indian Mills Church. In the following year he was appointed to Stockton Church, Camden. In 1871 he was admitted into the New Jersey Annual Conference and stationed at Lumberton and Rancocas. In 1872–74 he was stationed at Lower Bank, where he had much success, adding over three hundred to the Church. In 1875 he was sent to Ocean Port. In 1876–78 he was stationed at Navesink. During the first year of his pastorate at this appointment he married Julia Lane, of Lower Bank, who has been an earnest Christian helpmate to her sainted husband in his ministerial labors, and who survives him. In 1879 he was appointed to Milltown, where the Lord blessed his labors in the conversion of many souls. In 1882 he was appointed to Mantua. Here at the close of his second year his health was so impaired that he was obliged to retire from the regular work and take a supernumerary relation. In 1885 he again resumed the active work and was appointed to Bethesda Church, Turkey, where he had three very successful years, adding over two hundred to the Church. In 1888 he was appointed to Emanuel Church, Penn's Grove, and re-appointed in 1889. Here he met with the same success that had characterized his useful ministry, and by his genial and social disposition, his fervent and enthusiastic Christian spirit, won the hearts of the people, gave new hopes and energies to the Church, and bound its members close to God by the tie of Christian love and veneration with which a shepherd leads his flock. The first Sabbath after Conference, although suffering with a severe cold, he showed his indomitable will and enthusiasm in his work by conducting the usual services in the church and Sabbath-school. During his sickness his sufferings were great, but his soul was triumphant. He was conscious until near the last. He was ready to die. While friends sang around his bed he said, "Sing on; it is glorious." He raised his hand and shouted, "I am coming," and turning to his friends he said, "'I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith,'" and gradually sank to rest in the arms of his Saviour. Brother Atkinson was a good preacher, a faithful pastor, a devout Christian, a loving friend, and an untiring laborer in the Master's vineyard.

New York Conference.

WILLIAM M. CHIPP was born in the city of New York, October 28, 1810, and died in Hudson, N. Y., September 23, 1889. He was converted in the great revival in Allen Street Methodist Episcopal Church, New York city, in 1830. He was received on trial in the New York Conference June, 1832. His appointments were: Marbletown Circuit, New York Conference; Clifton Park, Troy Conference; Whitehall, Dalton, Mass.; New Lebanon, and Fort Ann. While on the last-named charge he was married to Miss Ruth McKean. He was then appointed to Chazy, Westport, Keeseville, Poultney and Hampton, Saint Albans, Waterbury and Stowe, Amsterdam, Saratoga Springs, West Troy, North Pittstown, Charlottesville, New York Conference; Shrub Oaks, White Plains, Fiftieth Street, New York city; Monticello, Hudson, White Plains, Rondout, Katonah, Sheffield, Mass.; Liberty, Athens, West Taghkanick, Saint John's, Hudson; making complete and honorable record of fifty years in the effective work of the Christian ministry—twenty-one years in the Troy Conference and twenty-nine years in the New York Conference. In 1882 his relation was changed to superannuated. In the earlier part of his ministry, with many of his brethren, he was familiar with sacrifices, and learned by experience what exhausting labor meant, yet his duties were cheerfully performed. Our deceased brother was an excellent pastor; he delighted in that portion of his work. His sermons were spiritual, replete with instruction, carefully prepared, clothed in choice language, and impressively delivered; his services were in frequent request among other denominations, who to the last listened to him with edification and pleasure. His health had been failing for a few years; he was stricken with acute disease Friday, September 20, was not able to converse freely, and was mostly unconscious until his death. A death-bed testimony from him was not necessary. When asked in a lucid interval if it was light ahead, he replied: "There is not one dark spot." He bore his sufferings patiently, expressing in the strongest terms his complete resignation to the will of his heavenly Father. His life was without reproach, his death was without fear. The struggle was soon ended, and he was not, for God had taken him.

GIDEON DRAPER'S death occurred on Sunday, December 8, 1889, at the home of his son in Yokohama, Japan. The following abstract of an address delivered on the occasion of his funeral, in Goucher Hall, Tokyo, by Rev. Julius Soper, will best say all that we could wish to have said about the man and his last peaceful moments: "While he breathed his last on a 'foreign shore,' he was surrounded by all the members of his own family. Dr. Gideon Draper was born June 22, 1828, in Manchester, N. Y. While in Berlin he heard an infidel lecture. This was the turning-point in his career. The words of the lecturer so disgusted him that he resolved to serve his father's God, saying that if infidelity had nothing better to offer than such blasphemy and vaporings he would cast his lot with Christians. No sooner was Dr. Draper converted than he felt the call to preach the Gospel. He spent a year and a half longer in Europe studying theology. He extended his travels as far as Egypt, Abyssinia, and the Holy Land. He returned to New York in 1856. In May, 1857, he married Charlotte P. Brown, who now survives him, and joined the New York Conference on trial on the same day. Dr. Draper spent most of the years of his ministry in active work. One year he was professor in Genesee College. From 1872–74 he took a supernumerary relation and again visited Europe. During this visit he spent one year as pastor of the American Church in Geneva, and for a while assisted in filling the pulpit of the Union Church in Berlin. In 1885 he acted as pastor for a year in West London. Disease seized upon him early in the fall of 1888. He spent six weeks in the Presbyterian Hospital, and was greatly improved. The following winter he and his wife spent in Washington city. He reached Yokohama the latter part of October. He was benefited somewhat by the voyage, but his days on earth were numbered. Fatal disease, 'pernicious anæmia,' finally released his spirit and gave rest to his suffering body. Dr. Draper was a constant and regular writer for religious papers and magazines for years, not only for those of his own but for those of sister denominations. We now lay his mortal remains in the beautiful cemetery of Aoyama, the 'Green Hills' of Japan's great metropolis, but a short distance from our great educational center, the Anglo-Japanese College."

WILLIAM D. FERO was born in Conesville, N. Y., August 2, 1823, and departed this life in the city of New York, March 26, 1890. In 1845 he was united in marriage with Miss Sarah P. Smith, a young woman of rare intellectual and moral worth, whose influence and co-operation contributed largely to her husband's early ministerial success. In 1850 he was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. Some eighteen months after, the Church, satisfied that he was divinely called to the work of the gospel ministry, gave him license to preach and afterward recommended him for admission to the Annual Conference. While preparing for this work he was invited to the wardenship of the Fergusonville Academy. His diligence, fidelity, piety, and sterling common sense commended him to the confidence of the officers and faculty, and secured to him the esteem of all the students. It is doubtful if any of his subsequent fields of labor yielded larger moral results. In 1856 he was received on trial in the New York Conference, and filled the following appointments: Equinunk, Beaverkill, Hunter, Delhi, Andes and Bovina, Davenport, Hobart, Magaretville, Jefferson, Shokan, Kerhonkson, Bloomingburg, Ashford, North Sing Sing, Woodlawn, and Fishkill. In all these charges he made "full proof of his ministry." Brother Fero was thrice married. His first wife has been mentioned. The second was Miss Lydia M. Gerow; the third was Miss Almeda Frisbee. Both of them were Christian women of real worth. One year ago Brother Fero came to Conference broken down in health. With great reluctance he yielded to the judgment of his warmest friends and took a supernumerary relation. We had hoped that at this session of the Conference he would be able to again take his place in the effective ranks. But his constitution, naturally delicate, was undermined, and the serious complications of his disease bid defiance to medical skill. During his last sickness his faith in his Redeemer was unshaken, and his mind's sky was beautifully serene. His loved ones with willing hands ministered to his comfort, followed him to life's last verge, and there, unable to penetrate the veil which hides the "vast beyond," bade him a final adieu.

Frank S. De Hass was born October 1, 1831. In 1848 he was received on trial in the Pittsburg Conference. His appointments were as follows: Leesburg, Murraysville, Weston, Agent North-western Virginia Academy, Agent Allegheny College, North Street Mission, Wheeling; Wesley Chapel, Pittsburg; Agent of the Methodist Episcopal Tract Society and Pittsburg Female College, Ninth Ward Mission, Pittsburg; Agent for the Irish Conference Fund, transferred to New York East Conference and made Agent of the Conference Tract Society, Seventh Street, New York; Washington Street, Brooklyn; Pacific Street, Brooklyn; transferred to Baltimore Conference and pastor Metropolitan Church, Washington; supernumerary, transferred to Cincinnati Conference, back to New York East, made effective and transferred to New York Conference and stationed at Lexington Avenue, New York; made supernumerary, which relation he sustained till his death. Under the presidency of General Grant he received the appointment of United States Consul at Jerusalem, which position he held for several years. Dr. De Hass possessed fine social qualities, made many ardent friends, and was greatly beloved by the members of the churches and congregations which he served. He was a good preacher, and at times powerful and eloquent. The last three years of his life he suffered much from a cancer. Knowing the incurable and malignant nature of his disease, he wrote thus to a dear friend: "I purchased this place" (at Martin's Ferry, near Wheeling, W. Va.,) "as a home where I could spend my declining years. What short-sighted mortals we are! A higher Power has ordered that I should have no declining years. My sun goes down at noonday, and the shadows of the tomb now close me in on every hand. Yet there is light ahead, and though in the valley of the shadow of death I fear no evil, for thou, O Christ, art with me. We have no complaints to make, no wish of our own to express." October 26 last was the date of this letter. He lingered till December 8, when in the quiet of his own home, surrounded by loved ones, in peace and holy triumph he passed beyond the shadow of death into the eternal sunlight, aged sixty-nine years.

Robert Kay was born in Cheshire, England, October 3, 1846, and died at Glasco, N. Y., January 18, 1890. In his infancy his parents came to New York, and soon after settled in Walden, N. Y. In April, 1873, he was received into the New York Conference and stationed at Lithgow. He afterward served Housatonic and Stockbridge, Hartsville, West Stockbridge and Richmond, North Highlands, Lagrangeville and North Clove, Verbank and Glasco. In most of these appointments his efforts were blessed in the conversion of souls, or the substantial growth of church interests. At West Stockbridge a fine parsonage attests his persevering work; while at Millbrook, on the Lagrangeville Charge, the church owes its origin to his labors. Brother Kay was united in marriage February 4, 1873, to Miss Almeda J. Cole, who survives him. At Glasco Brother Kay labored with his usual fidelity and diligence until attacked by the prevailing influenza in the early winter. Recovering somewhat, though greatly weakened, he resumed his duties, but these, increased by the demands of the holiday season, proved too heavy for him. On Sunday, January 5, against the remonstrances of friends, he preached impressively from the text: "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knoweledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest." It was almost literally a voice from the grave, for he went from the church to what proved to be his death-bed. Pneumonia rapidly developed. Through all divine grace wonderfully sustained him, and he gave repeated assurance of the precious nearness of the Saviour. As a preacher he was plain, practical, and scriptural; as a pastor, carefully watching over his flock; as a husband and father, all in all to his household; as a Christian, exemplary and devoted; as a man, spotless in character and consistent in conduct; his life was a benediction, his memory is a treasure.

David Lamberton Marks was born in Burlington, Conn., March 10, 1816, and was translated September 22, 1889. Brother Marks joined the New York Conference on trial in 1839, and the same year married Maria S. Sillette, and ever found in her, according to his own words after fifty years, "a helpmeet indeed." His successive appointments were as follows: Colebrook, Winsor and Suffield, Litchfield, Goshen, Conn.; South Canaan, Hillsdale, Hudson, Bedford Street, Cold Spring, Peekskill, Kingston First Church; Presiding Elder of Monticello District, Carmel and Drewville, New York City Missions, Saint Paul's, Middletown; Tremont, Cold Spring, Dobbs Ferry, Mott Avenue, supernumerary. In making an estimate of any man the question is not what he possesses, but what is he in his modes of thought, in his emotional being, in the trend of his passion, in the temper of his mind, in the tenor of his life? In the presence of this standard the character of D. L. Marks does not suffer. His theological belief was summarized in his notes of his own life, written only a few years ago: "My only hope is in the Lord Jesus Christ as my personal and present Saviour. He is the only and all-sufficient Saviour, able to save unto the uttermost all that will come unto God by him." Holding these views, we may not be surprised that in all his preaching he was logical, earnest, practical, and constantly looking for immediate results. Careful and painstaking in all his preparation for the pulpit, holding closely to the thought under consideration, all aglow with love for souls, and appreciating the truth that each man will be either saved or damned, he was a power for good wherever he presented Christ as a Saviour. Brother Marks was pre-eminently a revivalist. The result was that in the forty-eight years of his active ministry he received 4,356 persons into the Methodist Episcopal Church. Upon the whole, it may well be doubted whether any other member of this Conference has led as many to Christ. Living daily in intimate communion with God, and receiving from him abundant grace, he gave out the incense of holy living among the people with whom he labored. But the change was now approaching. He took a supernumerary relation in April, 1887, and on the 8th of May, while preaching at Irvington, he was stricken down in the pulpit by paralysis. From this attack he rallied sufficiently to go about, but not to again wield the old Damascus blade of truth. In July, 1888, he buried his daughter Ella, and this plunged him into great grief, but did not loosen his grip on the invisible. He attended the last Conference session, and in the love-feast gave what he said would be his last testimony for Christ before the Conference. On the 22d of September he attended divine service at the church in Dobbs Ferry; was present at and pronounced the benediction at the close of the Sabbath-school in the afternoon; sat resting in his easy-chair while his companion was attending the service at the church, and when she returned, and touched him to awaken him from supposed slumber, she found that he had gone so silently that even those who were in the room with him knew it not.

Charles Randolph North, on the 20th of April, 1889, through an accident caused by an attempt to cross the track at Mott Haven in front of a train coming from the city, was taken from us. It was late in the evening, dark, and without a witness to tell us the exact particulars, and the method of his death can only be surmised. He was born in Columbus, Miss., August 27, 1845. When but fourteen years of age he was soundly converted and joined the Church. Though born in the South, yet he was brought to New York when an infant, and New York was his home for many years. He joined the New York Conference in 1873, taking a very small appointment with a meager salary. But he never faltered nor complained, and did the work as cheerfully and well as though he had the best church in the Conference. His successive appointments were as follows: Mount Zion, Fishkill Village, Saint Paul's, Peekskill; Washington Street, Poughkeepsie; Matteawan, Thirtieth Street, New York; Saint John's, Newburg; Eighteenth Street, New York. At the last Conference the New York City Church Extension and Missionary Society desired to enlarge its work, to undertake new and broader plans, and needed a man specially qualified for its peculiar work. The board of managers naturally selected Charles R. North for the place, and he was appointed by the bishop as the corresponding secretary of the society. He was married to Miss Annie M. Haight, of Pleasantville, N. Y., October 22, 1868. Among the characteristics of the man most marked were his splendid natural endowments of body and mind, that made him always and every-where the charming and cultivated gentleman. With a warm and hearty greeting, easy and kindly manners, with a charm and purity of conversation, with transparent sincerity and truthfulness of character, he was ardently loved by his friends and greatly respected by all. He was a man of strong convictions and positive friendships. He was a studious and painstaking worker, a careful reader of strong books; he had fine literary taste, and a clear, vigorous, literary style. He was abreast of all the great reformatory and philanthropic movements of the age, and was sure to be in the front ranks of progress. He had the courage of his convictions, and feared nothing but God. He was a loyal son of Methodism, and tried to build up every part of the Church. He was an excellent preacher. His style was instructive, thoughtful, helpful. He was always anxious for conversions, and both by revivals and personal hand-to-hand work he was very successful in adding to the membership of his churches.

Peter C. Oakley, the oldest member of the New York Conference, died July 15, 1889, at the ripe age of eighty-nine years. When he was seventeen years old his father died, leaving him apprentice in the then modest little printing establishment of his friends and neighbors, the Harpers. Young Oakley had no thought of preaching. But one day his presiding elder, in the peremptory fashion of the times, directed him to supply a vacant pulpit. He was filled with trepidation. "But, trusting God," he used to say, "I went, and, shutting my eyes that I might not see the people, I spoke as best I could." His words on that occasion must have had the true ring, for the following April the elder insisted upon his entering the ranks of the traveling ministry, though he had not yet been licensed to preach. Accordingly, in 1824, he was appointed to the Croton Circuit, consisting of twenty-four preaching places, with Marvin Richardson as his senior colleague. His subsequent appointments included several of what were then the most important churches of our denomination. They were as follows: Granville, Pittsfield, Poultney, Middlebury, Charlotte and Shelburn, Presiding Elder of Plattsburg District, Troy, North Second Street, Ithaca, Brooklyn, First Church; Willett Street, New York; Stamford, Hartford, Saugerties, Agent of New York Colonization Society, Yorkville, Goshen, Presiding Elder of Rhinebeck District, Cold Spring, Ashford and Greenburg, North Newburg, Shrub Oaks, Sugar Loaf, Milton, superannuated. While at Pittsfield Brother Oakley married Miss Maria Loomis, of Windsor, Conn. As a preacher Brother Oakley was elevated, chaste, and biblical, often manifesting at the climax of his sermons the sight and passion of the seer. He would not be classed among the great revivalists, though his ministry was always attended with conversions and resulted in some great revivals, notably at Hartford and at Goshen. His own religious life was bright and even. He was not excitable, but was deeply emotional. He spoke little of his inner life, for he did not enjoy self-analysis. His spirituality was all-pervasive, in thought, act, and conversation. He enjoyed God directly, and wasted little time in contemplating his own deeds and feelings. To those who knew our brother in his retirement at Milton-on-the-Hudson, he was the ideal of admirable old age. His body, straight, active, pure, was the fit bearer of his clear soul. And his sweet voice and distinct, easy articulation gave him a wonderful power of expressing his thoughts and of impressing himself. The grace of his old-fashioned courtliness was charming. His faculties were so well preserved as to give the impression of a man perennially young.

Alonzo Farrington Selleck was born in the city of New York, January 4, 1806. Immediately after his conversion he united with the Willett Street Church and entered upon a Christian life, which he pursued with fidelity, without wavering, to the end of his days. His heart was greatly exercised for the conversion of his parents and brothers and sisters. He went home on the first opportunity to make known to them what a wonderful change had taken place in his own feelings, and his intense desire that they should become the recipients of the same blessing. His parents very soon yielded to the son's importunity, and not very long after some of his brothers and sisters were, through his instrumentality, brought to the knowledge of the truth. Soon after attaining his majority, November 24, 1827, he was married to Miss Clara C. Seaman. He was admitted to the New York Conference in 1834. For thirty years he sustained an effective relation. He was appointed successively to Cortland, Bedford, New Milford, Johnsville, Amenia, Pleasantville, Cortland again, Fishkill West, Cold Spring, Catskill, Saugerties, Delhi, Coeymans, Durham, Coeymans Hollow, West Camp, and Asbury. These fields of labor called for very hard work, while they could promise only a very scanty support, and it is a fact worthy of notice that during the whole thirty years of his ministry Brother Selleck never received more than four hundred dollars in any year. Brother Selleck embraced with his whole soul the theology of Wesley. He never grew weary of opinions because they were old. His experience was very clear, and was so interwoven with the grand fundamental doctrines of the cross that he could not be otherwise than thoroughly "rooted and grounded" in the faith. In 1864 his nervous system was somewhat shaken by his exhaustive and continued labors, which were a continual draft upon his vital force. He felt obliged to ask a supernumerary relation. For twelve years he lived in a quiet home at West Camp, on the banks of the Hudson. They were years of great usefulness. He had constant calls to supply churches and help pastors and attend funerals, while he was a general counselor and pacificator in the neighborhood where he lived. He removed to Brooklyn in 1876, and there for thirteen years was in connection with the Summerfield Church. He was a Sunday-school teacher, a tract distributor, a missionary. He was greatly beloved; he was very useful. The whole Church mourned when he was gone. During his last illness he was a great sufferer from weakness, but he bore his sickness with patience and calm resignation. When informed that his end was near, though extremely prostrated, he retained his composure and died a triumphant death. Thus this veteran, at the age of eighty-four, passed away.

JAMES W. SWEETMAN was born at Croton Falls, N. Y., June 17, 1859, and died in the city of New York, March 6, 1890. His means were limited and his difficulties great, but his will and masterly courage were equal to every emergency. In 1880 he was employed as a supply by the presiding elder on the Lithgow Charge. The next year he was admitted to the New York Conference. On March 27, 1883, he was married to Miss Frances E. Bell, of Walden. Brother Sweetman's appointments were as follows: Lithgow, Lithgow and Millbrook, Carthage Landing, Tyringham, Napanock, and West Fifty-sixth Street, New York city. He was a good and successful preacher, a faithful pastor, a sympathizing friend, and a true companion. While at Carthage Landing he had a severe attack of hemorrhage, which entirely prostrated him, and he was subject to hemorrhages during the remaining years of his life. He sometimes would go into his pulpit an hour after an attack of bleeding and preach rather than disappoint his congregation. With the courage of a martyr he prosecuted his work till within two weeks of his death. He was confined to his bed but two days. Those with him in his last hours did not realize his end was so near until he made the announcement himself. He said, "I am going home to glory." Then exhorting those at his bedside, saying, "Be faithful and meet me in heaven." Then turning to his sorrowing wife he said: "You have a work to do. Mine is finished. I shall be watching and waiting for you." He then fell asleep in Jesus, and was not, for God took him.

Delaware Conference.

SILAS E. ADAMS was born July 2, 1851, near Preston, Md. He was converted to God about December, 1871, and joined the Methodist Episcopal church at Preston, Md. He was licensed to preach 1878, and was elected lay delegate from East New Market Charge to the Lay Electoral Conference at Cambridge, Md., in 1879. He was appointed to supply the Chincoteague Island Charge in 1880 by the late Rev. John H. Holland, then presiding elder of the Salisbury District. He was admitted on trial into the Delaware Conference July, 1881, at Snow Hill, Md., and served with success the following charges: Chincoteague, two years; Skipton, three years; Sassafras, two years; Fairlee, two years. At the Conference session held at Chester, Pa., March 27, 1889, he was appointed for the third year to the latter charge. Cheerful, loving, and kind, he sustained a high degree of Christian morality, and proved himself a faithful worker in the vineyard of the Lord. He was united in marriage with Miss Jane Jenkins, May, 1880. On June 27, 1889, at Fairlee, Md., he departed this life in full hope of eternal life, leaving a wife, three children, and four brothers to mourn their loss; but their loss is his infinite gain.

New York East Conference.

JOSEPH VINTON was born in Willington, Conn., April 12, 1829, and died at his charge in Plainville, Conn., August 25, 1889, aged sixty years. He was converted about the age of thirteen. On April 13, 1858, he was united in marriage to Miss Lavinia P. Merrill, of New London, who still survives him. He joined the New York East Conference in 1855, and filled successively the following appointments: West Brook, Deep River, Simsbury, Middlefield, Litchfield, Torrington, Westport, King Street, Stratford, Woodbury, Seymour, Windsor Locks, Southington, and Plainville. During the last twenty-four years of his ministry he remained three years in each charge, and had entered upon the fourth year at Plainville, when the Master said, "It is enough, come up higher." Few Christian ministers so richly deserved the title that honors the apostle John as Joseph Vinton, and his memory will be cherished in the New York East Conference as the beloved disciple. His singularly unselfish nature and surpassing cheerfulness made him a universal friend. His churches loved him, the communities where he dwelt held him in highest esteem, to his brethren in the Conference he was a brother greatly beloved. His ministry was an eminent success; for though he was neither a great scholar nor a thinker, as those terms are usually understood, he was what is more: a large-souled, wholesome, self-forgetting, warm-hearted man; a preacher of righteousness, who knew "the disease and the remedy," and how to apply the remedy to human lives. During his third year in Plainville he succeeded in clearing the church of a debt of fourteen hundred dollars, greatly to the joy of his people. This was done without fair or festival, and of all the subscriptions every one was fully paid, with the single exception of one for one dollar. It was a great day for the little church when the notes were burned in the presence of the congregation. On Tuesday morning, August 20, Brother Vinton was suddenly stricken with paralysis. He instantly lost his consciousness, and remained in that condition till Sunday morning, when he quietly and gently breathed his last. This was as he would have had it, for a frequent saying of his was that sudden death was sudden glory. He desired to "cease at once to work and live."

Newark Conference.

CROOK STEVENSON VANCLEVE was born in Woodsville, N. J., December 30, 1814, and died in Pennington, near the place of his birth, March 8, 1890. For many years his name was a familiar one in the three Conferences to which he successively belonged, the Philadelphia, New Jersey, and Newark, especially in the latter two, as an honored member of which he passed more than two thirds of his long natural life. In 1836 he was admitted on trial in the Philadelphia Conference, and appointed by the presiding bishop to Newton Circuit, thus fixing his lot in the future New Jersey Conference, the organization and first session of which occurred in April of the next year, with territory embracing the whole State of New Jersey and parts of New York and Pennsylvania. His connection with that Conference covered a period of twenty-one successive years, with the following appointments: Asbury, Flanders, Madison, where he first established Methodist preaching in a hall offered by Mr. Henry Keep; Flanders again, Springfield, where he extended his labors to South Orange, preaching in a private house, and forming a class of six persons; Bloomfield, Mount Holly, Pemberton, Hope, Burlington, Front Street, Trenton; Franklin Street, Newark; Halsey Street, Newark. By the formation of the Newark Conference he became a member of that body, and his appointments were as follows: Morristown, Presiding Elder of Morristown District, Hackettstown, Presiding Elder of Newton District, Presiding Elder of Morristown District again, Market Street, Paterson, Port Jervis. At the close of this year he was transferred to New Jersey Conference, and thenceforward during six years occupied the following charges: Greene Street, Trenton; Commerce Street, Bridgeton, Saint Luke's, Long Branch. Then followed his transfer back to Newark Conference, in the fellowship of which he passed the last ten years of his effective ministry, his appointments being as follows: Mount Hermon, Belvidere, Springfield again, Peapack, Dunellen, at the close of which year he was granted, at his own request, a change of relation from effective to supernumerary, this action bearing date of April 3, 1886. Thus for fifty consecutive years this heroic man of God held on his steady way, a tried, true minister, of the "sacramental host of God's elect." In person he was tall, erect, and well proportioned, of light complexion, benevolent countenance, and natural, easy, unpretentious manners. His mental culture, though not up to the standard of his early aim, was quite above that of the average preacher of a half century ago, the fruit of diligent reading and study according to his opportunity. His preaching was of an excellent order; not always concise, and not always eloquent, as this term is sometimes understood, but it was always thoughtful, earnest, and not unfrequently masterful and mighty. His sermons were well prepared at his study-table and on his knees, and were delivered with seriousness, directness, and unction. In his pastoral work he was diligent, cheerful, sympathetic, blending great sociability with becoming dignity and piety. His election to the General Conference of 1868 was a well-deserved honor, coming to him spontaneously, without solicitation by word or act on his part, for to him practically the devices of the politician were unknown. Following apace this mark of confidence there came another in his appointment by the same Conference as a member of the Book Committee. In April, 1840, Brother Vancleve was married to Miss Sarah A. Bunn, of Pennington, a lady well fitted to occupy the responsible position thus assigned her by Providence.

Northern New York Conference.

Amos Sherwood Nickerson was born in the town of Monroe, Conn., March 3, 1816, and died at his home in Bernhard's Bay, N. Y., April 24, 1889. He was converted at the age of thirteen, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. In his twenty-third year he was united in marriage with Miss Mary Ann Thorp, who died September 10, 1868. July 10, 1872, he married for his second wife Miss Mary Sheckell, of Clifton Springs, N. Y. Brother Nickerson was admitted to the traveling connection in the old Black River Conference June 17, 1847; ordained deacon June 22, 1849, by Bishop Hedding, and elder July 6, 1851, by Bishop Janes. His successive appointments were as follows: Victory, Hannibal, Huron Mission, Steuben, South Canton, Philadelphia, Alexandria, Redfield, Parish, North Bay and West Vienna, Sandy Creek, Cicero. Nature had endowed Brother Nickerson with powers of mind quite above the average, and these he kept in active operation. His perceptions were quick, and readily took hold of truth in its great outlines. As a preacher he was scriptural, logical, and intensely in earnest, presenting strongly the great doctrines of the Bible with singular attractiveness, originality, and effect. As a conversationalist—as such the writer knew him better than as preacher—he was always interesting and instructive; his pleasant, cheerful disposition and unfailing good humor made him a favorite in all circles. His organization was nervous, and he did not favor himself when he had a cause to serve, and often worked when he should have rested. At the Conference held in Fulton in 1866, on account of failing health, induced by the almost constant care which he had bestowed upon his greatly afflicted wife, he was compelled to ask for a superannuated relation, which relation he held to the day of his death. His death was caused by neuralgia of the heart. He had been in usual health, and, with his wife, had made arrangements to start the following morning for Dakota to visit his daughter. He had packed his baggage and taken it to the depot. After eating supper he spent the evening pleasantly visiting with friends who had called to bid him "good-bye," and a little after nine o'clock retired to rest. At one o'clock he was attacked with severe pains in the chest, accompanied by vomiting, and, before any thing could be done for his relief, suddenly expired.

Daniel Fulford was born in Devonshire, England, July 15, 1813. He came to this country with his parents, who found a home in the vicinity of Chittenango, N. Y. In June, 1866, he married Miss Clara A. Hamilton, who is now his widow. He was a hard-working local preacher for more than ten years before he ventured into the ranks of the itinerancy. He was admitted a probationer into the Black River Conference June, 1856. His consecration to the work of the ministry was complete from the beginning. His devotion and loyalty were never questioned. As a pastor he was diligent and faithful. In the Sunday-school he was at home. In the pulpit he shunned not to declare all the counsel of God. He was endowed with a talent for music, and this, too, he faithfully put into the service of the Master. After thirty-one years of continuous service in the Black River Conference, and its successor, the Northern New York Conference, he asked for a change of relation from effective to superannuated. This was cheerfully granted him. He removed with his wife to Sioux Falls, S. Dak., expecting to spend the remainder of his days in that place. He did not cease to labor for the Church. He was found in the pulpit occasionally, often in the prayer and class meetings, and was useful every-where. His last illness gave him great suffering, but he endured it all with Christian patience and fortitude. He died May 28, 1889.

Charles Manson was born at Saint Armond, Lower Canada, September 15, 1818, and died at his home in Rome, N. Y., July 1, 1889, aged seventy years. He was ordained deacon in 1847 by Bishop Philander Smith, of the Canada Methodist Episcopal Church, and admitted on trial in the Bay of Quinte Conference. In 1849 he was received into full connection, and in 1852 was elected and ordained an elder by Bishop Smith. His fields of labor in Canada were: Brockville and Leeds, Stormont Mission, Matilda and Winchester, Crosby, Bon-chere Mission, Ottawa City, Napanee, Hallowell, superannuated, made effective and stationed at Odessa, Ottawa District, Winchester. His appointments in the United States were: Brasher, Fort Covington and Bombay, North Potsdam, Evans Mills, transferred to Nebraska Conference and stationed at Ashland, returned to the old Black River Conference and stationed at Saint Lawrence, Bombay, New Haven, Henderson, Lowell, to supernumerary, North Bay, New London, superannuated.

Ward Wesley Hunt was born in Westmoreland, N. Y., February 9, 1817, and died in Adams, N. Y., September 7, 1889, aged seventy-two. He was admitted on trial in the Black River Conference 1848; received in full connection June 27, 1830; ordained deacon June 30, 1850, by Bishop Waugh; ordained elder June 27, 1852, by Bishop Morris. His appointments were as follows: Brasher, Pamelia Four Corners, Evans Mills, Copenhagen, Lowvillle, Carthage, Arsenal Street, Watertown; Canton, Theresa, supernumerary, Mannsville, Lorraine and Worth, supernumerary, Moira, Gouverneur, Pulaski, chaplain in Sing Sing Prison, supernumerary, superannuated. Served Henderson Charge a few months in 1848 before joining the Conference. Served Henderson Charge again during 1865, while in a supernumerary relation; appointed and duly commissioned as chaplain of the Ninety-eighth New York Volunteers in 1865, but by the fall of Richmond, a few days after, the regiment was saved from entering the actual service. Brother Hunt was an able expounder of the word of God. His mind took firm hold of the fundamentals of the Christian religion; his heart clave to them. No church was wrongly indoctrinated by Brother Hunt's teaching. He knew the theology of his Church, and strongly defended it, and applied it to the experiences of his hearers. At first he appeared to some not so favorable, but, like a rough diamond, he was appreciated when known. In pastoral work he was most prodigious; as a worker, careful and wise. His charity was effective, because he carried a heart for the erring and unfortunate. He knew the art of gathering into the Church. This is the ministerial record of our brother in Christ.

POMEROY WRIGHT was born in Westford, N. Y., February 15, 1825, and died at his home in Trenton, N. Y., November 24, 1889. In 1845 he married Miss Julia Reeve, of Newport, N. Y. Six weeks later, after a night and day of almost constant prayer by his faithful wife and himself, he was graciously and consciously converted. Very soon he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, and in time became a class-leader. Early in his Christian experience he felt called to preach, but for some time resisted, to his own spiritual hurt. In the spring of 1855 he was received on trial in the Black River Conference. Two years later he was received into full membership and ordained, and until broken in health he faithfully served the Church under appointment, giving in all about twenty-five years to effective work. Beginning on his home charge (Newport) his appointments, excepting one term at West Turin, were all within the bounds of Herkimer and Oneida Counties, as follows: Schuyler, West Turin, Russia, Brocketts and Stratford, Fairfield, Floyd, Trenton and Russia, East Hamilton, but did not serve; Cold Brook, Marcy, South Trenton, Trenton. His character and work were such as to commend him most to those who knew him best. On several charges, by building new churches, or the improvement of old ones, he gave practical evidence of his good judgment and business ability. He was not at all sensational either in his methods of work or in the character of his teaching. His pulpit style was conversational, easy to himself and pleasant to his hearers. To his effort was due in large measure the establishment of the Trenton Falls Camp-meeting enterprise. While in health Brother Wright was a man of great physical vigor, and unusual powers of endurance, but in the last years of his life disease brought to him periods of great suffering. His courage and force of character enabled him to keep up the struggle for life longer than most men would have done. Until the last he was blessed with the presence and loving care of his devoted wife.

SILAS SLATER was born at Pinckney Corners, N. Y., September 18, 1809, and departed this life December 12, 1889. He was converted at eighteen, and at once united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. Brother Slater was admitted to the Black River Conference August 7, 1838, and in full connection July 29, 1840. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Roberts August 2, 1840, and ordained elder by Bishop Hedding July 24, 1842. His first regular appointment was Theresa, in 1838. July 20, 1839, he was united in marriage with Miss Maria Isdell, who, for more than half a century, shared with him the vicissitudes of an itinerant's life. His appointments were as follows: Theresa, Sandy Creek, Carthage, Copenhagen, Cape Vincent, Henderson, Hammond, Gouverneur, Summerville and Sprague's Corners, Gouverneur again, Philadelphia, Pillar Point, Pamelia, supernumerary, superannuated, Henderson, superannuated again, New Bremen, West Martinsburg, superannuated again, in which relation he remained, residing at Copenhagen until his death. Father Slater was a self-made man in the strong sense of that phrase. This may account in part for his successful ministry. He died suddenly at his home in Copenhagen at the ripe age of eighty years, having walked across his room within a hour of his death. As a preacher he was above the average. His sermons comforted and instructed his hearers, and his neighbors who knew him best were always pleased when, in the absence of their pastor, he was asked to supply the pulpit. Perhaps he owed most of his success in his ministry to his pastoral work. He was a successful pastor. In grand results for God and the Church this is the greater gift of the two. The abiding work of the ministry is mostly done here. He had a sympathetic nature, which brought him in contact with those whom God bids his ministers to comfort.

New England Southern Conf.

LORENZO W. BLOOD was born in Mason, N. H., April 13, 1812. He was converted when seventeen years old. He joined the New England Conference on trial in 1839. In 1841, Conference having been divided and Brother Blood's charge being in Stafford, he was received in full connection by the Providence Conference and ordained deacon, June 13, by Bishop Hedding, by whom he was also ordained elder June 11, 1843. His Conference appointments and relations were as follows: South Hadley, Stafford, Thompsonville, Eastford, Mystic, East Greenwich, supernumerary. He resumed the effective relation after a year of rest, and was stationed at South Glastonbury, Rockville, Hazardville, Quarryville, Colchester, Danielsonville, Presiding Elder of New London District. The district work being too hard for him he left it at the end of two years and was stationed at Portland, Uncasville, North Groavenordale, Norwich, North; Warehouse Point, Burnside, Windsorville, supernumerary again, but was returned effective at the end of the year and appointed to Gurleyville, Staffordville, West Thompson, and Versailles. In 1841 he took a superannuated relation, which he held until September 13, 1889, when he was called from labor to reward. Brother Blood was married June 16, 1839, to Miss Elizabeth Smith, who, as his widow, in her old age is left to say, "Have pity upon me, have pity upon me, O ye my friends, for the hand of God hath touched me." Our departed brother did not so much seek to please as to feed the flock over which the Holy Ghost made him an overseer with "truth and knowledge." He was, therefore, careful to get the exact meaning of the texts from which he preached. He used his learning—and he was more than an ordinary scholar—to show himself "approved unto God," "rightly dividing the word of truth." His sermons were thoroughly studied, systematically arranged, and his thoughts plainly presented, impressing intelligent hearers that they were prepared by one who was intent on the conversion of sinners, and building up the Church "in righteousness and true holiness." The last years of our brother's life were spent in comparative retirement, but by his kindly aid of the pastor of the church where he resided, his testimonies in social meetings, his quiet demeanor and purity of character, he was scarcely less useful than in the days of his active pastorate. May it be ours to have as clean a record, as safe a passport to the land of the blessed, and, having brought many to righteousness, "shine as stars for ever and ever."

ASA NYE BODFISH was born in Barnstable, Mass., December 2, 1810. Although his educational privileges were limited to the public schools of that period, he was a voracious reader, especially on religious lines, and works relating to the doctrine, polity, history, and biographies of Methodism. His memory was retentive and his native mental endowments superior, and in the contests of the village lyceum and other public assemblies he acquired habits of fluency and ease of address which afterward served a good purpose on the greater arena of pulpit eloquence. During all these twenty years he was struggling with a conviction that it was his duty to enter the ministry. His lack of scholastic qualifications, together with a native diffidence which was but partially overcome during his life, restrained him until domestic affliction and temporal reverses compelled him to yield, under the belief that these were providentially sent to turn his thoughts from earthly endearments to obedience of the divine call. At the session of 1851 Brother Bodfish was admitted to this Conference as a probationer, and the list of appointments shows that, considering the age at which he was admitted and his lack of systematic education, he was a man of more than average ability as a preacher, and of more than ordinary success as a pastor. After thirty-seven years of effective service, in 1888 he took a supernumary relation to the Conference, feeling that his public work was done. A few weeks before his death (says a friend), "he visited Wareham, taking part in the public services of the Sabbath and attending the prayer-meeting in the evening. His prayers were full of unction, and he seemed like one inspired. When he pronounced the benediction it was like a patriarch leaving his parting blessing." After the Conference of 1888 he took up his abode with his daughter at Mystic Bridge. The change of relation produced a mental depression, and Brother Bodfish, who was both social and reticent in his disposition, and whose habit it was to hide his griefs and joys even from those whom he most loved, was observed to withdraw from public performances and withhold himself to a great degree from the assemblies even of his brethren. When the Conference of 1889 had adjourned he took the opportunity to spend the early months of the year in visiting the fields of his former labors, returning to Mystic Bridge in the early autumn, apparently stronger in health and more cheerful in spirit. October 9 he was at the regular Wednesday evening prayer-meeting. At the pastor's urgent invitation he took a seat with him, and offered an appropriate and fervent prayer. No sooner was the way opened for speaking than he arose and stood during the singing of a stanza, after which he spoke a few sentences easily and with unusual unction, then faltered, staggered, and before assistance could reach him, fell over and was dead, without a word, a motion, or a pulse-beat that could be observed. Brother Bodfish was twice married; first to Miss Lucy P. Richmond, who died August, 1840; second, to Miss Elizabeth A. Nye, who also died February 18, 1883.

New England Conference.

Bradford Kinney Peirce, D.D., was born in Royalton, Vt., February 3, 1819, and died in Newton, Mass., on Good Friday, April 19, 1889, aged seventy years. He was married on the day of his graduation to Miss Harriet W. Thompson, of Middletown, who survives him. In 1846 he joined the New England Conference, and remained a member till he was transferred to the Church triumphant. He was editor of the Sunday-School Messenger and the Sunday-School Teacher in Boston in 1844–45, and agent of the Sunday-School Union in 1854–56. Dr. Peirce was superintendent and chaplain of the State Industrial School at Lancaster, Mass., from 1856 to 1862, and chaplain of the House of Refuge on Randall's Island, N. Y., from 1862 till 1872, and was then editor of Zion's Herald in Boston for sixteen years. At the time of his death he was a trustee and the financial agent of Boston University. He always manifested great interest in the young, devoting much time to their welfare and to lectures in their behalf. His was a life of never ceasing activity and usefulness, and his magnetic influence drew around him a large number of devoted friends. Dr. Peirce had excellent taste in the choice of language, themes, and illustrations, and his conversation was always sparkling, chaste, and instructive, embracing a wide field of subjects. He was a man of keen observation, and in his travels at home and abroad stored up a never-failing treasury of useful material for all society and occasions. As a friend and pastor he was sympathetic, and always ready to give counsel and extend assistance in various forms. As a preacher and lecturer he was eloquent, fertile in imagination, and timely in appropriate quotations, frequently deeply moving his hearers. His was eminently a catholic spirit, by which he won the confidence and esteem of those of all creeds and parties, and scarcely any man in the Church of his choice was more widely known, or held in more sincere esteem. There was in Dr. Peirce a depth of piety, a devotion to his Church, a zeal for every good word and work, which emphasized the words of the psalmist, "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace."

Daniel Atkins received his first appointment in the New England Conference in the spring of 1852, and for thirty-seven years he sustained an effective relation to this body. During all this period he most cheerfully and faithfully performed the work of an itinerant minister. His call to the ministry came early in his Christian life. He did not enter the ministry from choice, as one enters upon a merely professional or business life, but the "woe is me if I preach not the gospel," found him at his business; and feeling that God had committed the work of the gospel ministry to him, he was not disobedient to the "heavenly vision," but began at once to call sinners to repentance. Brother Atkins was a modest and retiring man, possessed of much natural dignity of character, clear in judgment, and always discreet in word and act. He delighted to preach "not himself, but Christ Jesus his Lord." He was born in Truro, Mass., August 16, 1824. Died in East Templeton, Mass., June 8, 1889. He was twice married. March 19, 1848, he was married to Miss Caroline M. Thurston, of Newport, R. I., and January 11, 1855, to Miss Nancy J. Shaw, of Wales, Mass., who now mourns her loss. His home was thoroughly a Christian home. The divine Presence rested in this "holy of holies." He died suddenly; an illness of a few days, and he was gone.

John Wesley Coolidge was born in Leominster, Mass., November 2, 1822, and died of cancer in the stomach, in Hancock, N. H., October 13, 1889, aged sixty-six years. He was converted when about seventeen years of age, during a series of revival meetings in Leominster. In 1850 he married Nancy Merriam, of Princeton. He was licensed to exhort in 1852, joined the New England Conference in 1855, and filled the following appointments: West Brookfield, Fiskdale and Wales, North Brookfield, Oakdale, Athol, superannuated, Needham, Mendon, superannuating again. In 1871 he purchased a farm in Hancock, N. H., where he settled his family. He subsequently bought a saw and grist mill, and carried on quite an extensive business, preaching as health and opportunity permitted, maintaining always a consistent Christian and ministerial character. He was a plain, pointed, and interesting preacher, a faithful and diligent pastor, sympathetic in his ministrations to the sick and sorrowing, doing good to all as he had opportunity. When the Congregational church in Hancock paid him for long-rendered services in supplying their pulpit, he returned the money, telling them to use it to pay other debts.

Kinsman Atkinson was born in Buxton, Me., October 16, 1807, and died in Cambridge, Mass., December 23, 1889. Brother Atkinson prepared for college at Phillips Academy, Andover. He entered Bowdoin College in 1831, and joined the junior class of Harvard in 1833, and was graduated in 1834. So far as we can learn, he was held in high esteem by his classmates in both the above institutions. He studied theology at Andover. It is a tribute to his energy and perseverance, as well as to his abilities, that he paid his way through college and the seminary by teaching, and yet maintained his standing in his classes. Dr. Leonard Woods, who was professor in Andover while Brother Atkinson studied in that Institution, paid him this high tribute: "Kinsman Atkinson is a young man of refined feelings, ardent piety, and the best scholar in his class." In June, 1839, Brother Atkinson was united in marriage with Dorothy Myric Woods. Brother Atkinson was ordained a Congregational minister in 1838, and for five years he served churches of that denomination in Mendon and Washington, in this State. Not fully agreeing with the doctrines then taught by the Congregationalists, he withdrew from them and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. He united with the New England Conference in 1843, and received the following appointments: Belchertown, Winchendon, Princeton, Weston, Farnumsville, Topsfield, Dedham, Barre, Ludlow and Jenksville, Hubbardston, Quincy Point. From 1858 to 1860 he had a supernumerary relation, and since 1861 he has been a superannuate. When he located he chose Cambridge as his home, in order to afford his children the superior educational advantages of that city. During his residence in Cambridge he served one year as chaplain of the city almshouse, supplied the churches in Northville and Woburn, and preached occasionally in other places.

WALTER WILKIE calmly fell asleep in Jesus on the morning of March 10, 1890, at "Pilgrim's Rest," his pleasant home in Winthrop, Mass., in the seventy-seventh year of his age. He was born in Norwich, Conn., April 6, 1813. At the age of eighteen he was soundly converted. He joined the New England Conference on trial in 1837, and became a member in full at the Conference in Lynn, 1839, after an examination, he says, of "nine hours a day for three days." For twenty-three years he was a minister in the Wesleyan Connection. In 1885 he took a supernumerary, and in 1889 a supernnuated, relation. Brother Wilkie was married three times. To Caroline Warner in May, 1836; to Laura White, April, 1854; and to Eliza A. Buffum in February, 1862. A widow and two sons remain to mourn their loss. Brother Wilkie was a plain, earnest, convincing preacher of the old style. His sermons were never dull, but often sparkled with wit, illustration, and anecdote. He had the courage of his convictions. When discussion on the slavery question ran high in the country and in the Church, he united himself with the most aggressive. Hence his union with the Wesleyan movement in the so-called Orange Scott secession in 1844. It was also the same courage that brought him to the old Church again when the slavery question was settled. His last day upon earth was the Lord's day. He was in his accustomed place in the church, as cheerful and happy as usual, and took great interest in the morning service. He was present also in the evening prayer-meeting, gave an earnest testimony, and offered a fervent prayer. He retired at ten o'clock, saying to his companion, "I have enjoyed the day unusually well." He awoke at four in the morning to say that he had had "a good night's sleep," and then dropped to sleep again, and when he awoke it was not here. "He was not, for God took him."

JOHN W. LEE was born in Tiverton, England, March 24, 1819, and died at his home in Wakefield, Mass., March 18, 1890, in the seventy-first year of his age. He was converted in early manhood in England, and united with the Methodist Church. He was married to Miss Ellen Griffiths, in England, in 1848. Brother Lee, with his wife and oldest child, came to the United States in 1852, landing in Boston. In a short time he entered the itinerancy (having been licensed to preach in England), became a member of the New England Conference in 1854, and was ordained by Bishop Simpson. His fields of labor were Sudbury, Sutton, Blandford, Chicopee Falls, Pelham, and Buckland before the civil war, and Enfield and East Longmeadow after the war had ended. While serving the church at East Longmeadow President Grant appointed him inspector at the custom-house, Boston. At the following session of this Conference he was granted a supernumerary relation, which he held until his death. Brother Lee was greatly loved by the other officials in the custom-house. A memorial meeting was held in room 269, resolutions of sympathy and esteem were adopted, several eloquent eulogies were pronounced, and a unanimous vote to attend the funeral services in a body was passed and carried out. Wherever Brother Lee has lived he has been true to the Church he loved. He came to Wakefield eight years ago, and has been always deeply interested in the welfare of the church. He gave liberally, helped cheerfully, and counseled wisely. This church and their pastor have lost a faithful friend and brother, and they keenly feel their loss.

Vermont Conference.

PERLEY PUTNAM RAY was born in Danville, Vt., June 25, 1818. He joined the Vermont Conference in 1844, and was sent to Sutton and Burke as assistant preacher. During the following year, May 25, 1845, he married Miss Elisabeth Jenkins, who survives him. His subsequent appointments were as follows: Westfield Mission, Holland and Morgan, Derby and Holland, Felchville Mission, Perkinsville and Felchville, North Wardsborough, superannuated, Springfield and Chester, Barnard, Newbury, Cabot, Calais and Marshfield, Cabot again, Plainfield, Presiding Elder of Montpelier District, Saint Albans District, Sheldon, Essex. Shortly after receiving this appointment he decided to go West, and removed to Webster City, Ia. In 1874 he superannuated, and sustained this relation to the Conference till released from life. After going West he did effective work six years: Webster City Circuit, three years, Blairsburg, one year, Lehigh, two years, resulting in a large number of conversions and additions to the Church. Though compelled at this time to relinquish regular work altogether, on account of failing health, he continued to preach as he was able, and had opportunity, until the last two years of his life. Five years ago he removed from Webster City, Ia., to Heron Lake, Minn., to reside with his elder daughter, where, with his family about him, he died in peace March 19, 1890, in his seventy-second year. P. P. Ray was no ordinary preacher. He had large intellectual gifts, and he thoroughly studied his themes. He was closely biblical in his preaching, and earnest, if not popular, in his delivery. In his later years he was less demonstrative in voice and gesture than he thought necessary at the beginning, which added much to his success in the pulpit. His early and careful study of the doctrines of the Bible laid the foundation for the masterly sermons he was wont to preach in the manhood of his ministry. Brother Ray shared the confidence of his brethren to a large degree. Beside occupying positions of trust on social Conference boards, he was honored with an election to three General Conferences; namely, 1856, 1864, and 1868. Sickness prevented his attendance in 1856.

ANDES T. BULLARD was born in Francistown, N. H., December 22, 1803, and died in Randolph, Vt., October 12, 1889, in the eighty-sixth year of his age, fifty-eighth of his ministry. His first marriage was with Miss Lydia Lincoln, and occurred August 23, 1826. His second marriage was with Mrs. Amanda Clark, of Bethel, Vt., November 15, 1878, who survives him. He was admitted into the New Hampshire Conference on trial in 1831. He was ordained deacon at Northfield, N. H., July 21, 1833, by Bishop Hedding, and received into full connection. At Portsmouth, N. H., August 2, 1835, he was ordained elder by Bishop Emory. When the Conference was divided, and the Vermont Conference was organized, Brother Bullard fell on the New Hampshire side, but was transferred to the Vermont Conference in 1847. The ability and trustworthiness which were accorded him by his brethren are seen by the positions which he held. He was presiding elder ten years; a delegate to General Conference in 1852, 1860, and 1864. He also served on several boards of trust connected with the Conference. The following is a list of his appointments: Wethersfield, Barnard, Bethel, Weston, Corinth, Stockbridge, Northfield, Sharon and Norwich, Williamstown, Lancaster, N. H.; Whitefield and Sandoff, N. H.; Bradford, Vt.; Danville District, Montpelier District, Northfield Falls and Roxbury, South Royalton, Springfield, Barre, Randolph, Peacham, Danville District again, Randolph again, Concord, Plainfield, Williamstown again. In 1871 he took a supernumerary relation, and 1879 was superannuated. But for a part of the time during these years he was a pastoral supply. He continued to preach as opportunity afforded until within a few months of his death, and sometimes with the fire and zeal of his earlier days.

HARVEY HITCHCOCK was born in Westfield, Vt., February 25, 1814, and died in Chicopee, Mass., November 19, 1889. He was converted in early life, and at the age of twenty-three joined the Vermont Conference, of which he was an esteemed member at the time of his death. In 1853, after sixteen years of successful ministerial service, his health failed, while stationed at Peacham, and he removed to Chicopee, Mass., and engaged in business, expecting soon to return to the regular work of the ministry. But his health—and especially his voice—was not sufficiently restored to allow this. He was twice married, his first wife being Mahala Ward, of Westfield, Vt. His second wife was Laura Welch, of Groton, Vt., who survives him. Brother Hitchcock was a beloved and useful member of the church, and a help and inspiration to its pastor. He loved to be in his place in the house of God, and rejoiced in the prosperity of Zion. His bodily health was feeble during the last years of his life, and especially so for a few months previous to his death, but his spiritual health was excellent. He had walked so long with God that he could patiently, calmly, and with implicit faith walk through the valley of the shadow of death and pass over beyond the sight of loved ones, who so tenderly ministered to his wants, and join the happy multitude on the other side.

WILLIAM BICKFORD HOWARD was born in Barre, Vt., January 17, 1817, and died in Highgate, April 26, 1889, in the seventy-third year of his age. In 1840 he was married to Miss Louisa Cilly, of Tunbridge, Vt. His first wife died in Highgate, February 28, 1878. His second wife was Mrs. Jane B. Sanderson, of Highgate, May 7, 1879, who died February 15, 1887. In 1852 he was received as a probationer into the Vermont Conference. In 1854 he was admitted into full connection and ordained deacon by Bishop Janes, and in 1856 he was ordained elder by Bishop Baker. Our brother held an effective relation to the Conference thirty-three years; and in 1886 he received a superannuated relation, which he held till his decease. Brother Howard was a good sermonizer, sound in doctrine. He was a faithful and a greatly beloved pastor, a kind husband and father, a citizen respected highly for his candor, honesty, industry, intelligence, gentlemanly bearing, and his consistent Christian life. He had a rich Christian experience, enjoying the blessing of perfect love, and he lived in harmony with such a profession and experience.

Philadelphia Conference.

LEROY WILLIS MAGEE was born March 9, 1860, at Evansburg, Pa. At the age of eleven years, at Ocean Grove, he sought and found the Saviour. From that time until his death in Denver, Col., October 28, 1888, his life was spent in preparation for, and in carrying on, the work of his Lord and Master, Jesus Christ. He was admitted into the Philadelphia Conference in the year 1885, and stationed at Elam, where he labored most acceptably and successfully for two years. He was then appointed to Sharon Hill, and in the third year of a prosperous administration God called him from labor to reward. During his pastorate at Sharon Hill he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Garvin, who mourns his loss. As a minister he was faithful and true: he declared the whole counsel of God. As a pastor he was sympathetic, kind, and helpful. He had a passion for souls, and to accomplish their salvation often, we think, labored in the pulpit and out of it beyond his physical strength. The young loved him, they gathered about him; he instructed them in secular as well as spiritual truths, and as a result there are many who "in that day" will rise up and call him blessed.

DANIEL LEAMING PATTERSON was born in Pennsylvania November 22, 1817, and closed his earthly pilgrimage at the home of his son, West Philadelphia, on Thursday morning, April 18, 1889, in the seventy-second year of his age. In the spring of 1842 he was received into the Philadelphia Conference on probation. His appointments were: Cecil Circuit, Nottingham, Parrish Street, Philadelphia; Attleborough, Norristown, Milton, Berlin, Annamessex, Safe Harbor, Mauch Chunk, Grove, Pottstown, Mariner's Bethel, Cohocksink, Siloam, Bedford Street Mission, Philadelphia; Lewes, Del. Then for three years, on account of infirm health, he sustained a supernumerary relation to the Conference, after which his appointments were Salem, Cheltenham, Bryn Mawr and Bethesda, Conshohocken, Bethany, Philadelphia; and Darby. In 1881 he again asked for a supernumerary relation, which he held for six years, part of which time, however, he had temporary charge of Sepviva Mission, Kensington, also of Epworth Chapel, West Philadelphia. At the Conference of 1887, believing that his health had irreparably failed, he requested a superannuated relation, which, as has been intimated, was destined to be of comparatively short duration. As a man Brother Patterson was intellectual, conscientious, and courageous. He was blessed with fine natural endowments. Yet, while having inherited an intellect far above the average, he did not presume upon what nature had done for him, but persisted in cultivating his mind by years of study. As a thinker he commanded the respect of all with whom he became associated. He was characterized by a vein of originality which was the just admiration of not a few. Discussion was as natural to him as breathing. His character was modeled after a stalwart type: being a descendant of the Huguenots, his morality, as would have been expected, was of a vigorous cast. He was distinguished by a high sense of honor, which he never forfeited. No one ever thought of charging him with a lack of candor or fidelity. His moral convictions were always decided, but he was never without the courage to maintain them. There was no bribe that could silence his voice against that which he knew to be wrong. To be in the minority gave him no great concern, for early in life he had learned to ask, not what are others doing? but, what is right? As a friend our lamented brother was ingenuous, faithful, and affectionate. His considerate conduct toward his junior colleagues during the years of his circuit work invariably won their lasting esteem. The life of one of these co-workers was saved by his taking him, in the time of critical illness, from his dreary boarding-house into his own home, where, with the tenderness of a father, he nursed him back to health. During the several years of his supernumerary ministry he cheerfully responded to scores of calls to fill the pulpits of sick or disabled brethren. He was a worthy example of that charity that "thinketh no evil." One who bore him the most intimate acquaintance gives this testimony concerning this noble feature of his character, "I never knew any one more reluctant to believe a disparaging report of a brother than Daniel L. Patterson." His strong social traits made friendly intercourse an unusual delight to him. As a preacher Brother Patterson was a well-qualified expounder of the word of God. He was rigidly trained in the school that magnified the Bible and made its knowledge the great preparation for the mission of an embassador for Christ. His pulpit ministrations were scriptural, practical, impressive, sometimes eloquent. He dwelt frequently and powerfully on the cardinal doctrines of the Gospel. In his earlier ministry he was eminently successful as a revivalist. He entered the work at a time when revivals were expected and when conversions were regarded as the crowning proof of a call to the ministry, without which all other evidences were considered as unsatisfactory to the preachers and the Church. As a Christian he was devout, earnest, and exemplary. His Christian character could endure scrutiny. The more closely it was inspected the more commendable it appeared. To those who came nearest to him there was evidence of an under-current of profound religious feeling. Like Paul he found great joy in referring to it. He also derived great comfort from the doctrine of the witness of the Spirit. The Bible, which had been the guide of his youth and the inspiration of his manhood, was a great pleasure to him at the close of life. Visitors to his dying chamber nearly always found the open book close by. He was marvelously gifted in prayer. Few men had the power to lift a congregation so near to heaven. At the family altar or in public worship he appeared to have an influence with God, which seems to be the privilege of very few. Many unconverted were convicted during his powerful pleading with God, and often penitents were lifted into the kingdom of grace while he was interceding for them.

Joseph Mason was born in Philadelphia September 12, 1815, and died at Ocean Grove, N. J., January 18, 1890. His parents were members of the Ebenezer Methodist Episcopal Church. When his father died, in 1830, his mother became more than ever the object of his attachment; but soon her health began to fail, and after a lingering illness, which she bore with Christian fortitude, she died March 28, 1831. This trying and painful event proved to be the turning-point in the son's life. November 12, 1834, he was married to Miss Margaret Clayton, who shared with him life's sorrows and joys for fifty-six years, and is now left waiting to join him in the fellowship of the glorified in heaven. At the Quarterly Conference held January 20, 1837, he was recommended to the Philadelphia Conference. There being no married men received that year, he was employed by Rev. David Daily, of Chesapeake District, on Dover Circuit as junior preacher with Rev. Eliphalet Reed, where he labored with great acceptability. At the close of the year he was again unanimously recommended to the Philadelphia Conference, and received on trial. By special request of the people of Dover he was returned to them for the second year. In 1839 he was appointed to Kent Circuit as junior preacher. At the Conference of 1840 he was received into full connection, and ordained deacon by Bishop Hedding, and returned to Kent Circuit. From 1841 his appointments were: Ebenezer, Reading, Pa., during which time he was ordained elder by Bishop Hedding; in 1842 Port Deposit, Md.; Smyrna, Del.: Easton, Pa.; Saint Paul's and Twelfth Street, Philadelphia; Columbia, Pa.; Saint Paul's and Asbury, Wilmington; Fifth Street and Salem, Philadelphia; Presiding Elder of Wilmington District four years, and for a like term on the North Philadelphia District; then pastor of Wharton Street, Broad Street, Haines Street, Germantown; Ebenezer, Philadelphia; Mount Zion, Manayunk. In 1882 he took a supernumerary relation, which he retained one year, serving a part of the time at Tasker Church. The following year he was made effective, and returned to Tasker, where he supervised the erection of the edifice now occupied by that society. In 1884 his relation was changed to that of supernumerary with work, and appointed to Green Street. At the end of the year, at his own request, he was made supernumerary without work, which relation he held until the last session of the Conference, when his name was placed on the superannuated list, to which he felt he belonged. In 1864 he was honored by his brethren in an election to the General Conference held in Philadelphia. He was a charter member of the Board of Church Extension Society, also of the Philadelphia Conference Tract Society, the Preachers' Aid Society, and other Conference societies. He sometimes preached topically, but more frequently resorted to the textual and expository modes, always, however, weaving in some appropriate and well-timed illustration that told upon the audience, and more often remembered when every thing else was forgotten. His style of delivery was conversational rather than declamatory, never failing to rivet the attention and interest and profit the hearer. He was also a faithful pastor, never neglecting any of his people or the duties he owed to them. In the sick-room and on funeral occasions his presence was a benediction, and his words of cheer and consolation never failed to inspire courage in the sufferer or to bring comfort to the bereaved.

George W. Lybrand was born in Trenton, N. J., on the 6th of July, 1822. His father, Rev. Joseph Lybrand, a beloved and honored member of our Conference, was at that time stationed in that city, and was a man of pre-eminent gifts, grace, and usefulness. In the spring of 1843 he was appointed by the Rev. James Smith, presiding elder, as one of the junior preachers on the Susquehanna Circuit. At the session of the ensuing Conference he was admitted on trial, and sustained an active relation to that body until the spring of 1888, when at his own request he was placed on the supernumerary list. On the 1st day of June, 1889, he was called to his heavenly home. The religious life of Brother Lybrand was marked by sincerity, simplicity, humility, modesty, meekness, purity, and fidelity. He was strong in faith, mighty in prayer, giving glory to God. In the pulpit he may not have equaled some of his brethren in grasp of intellect, in varied and accurate scholarship, in glowing eloquence, in logical exactness; but there are few of them who excelled him in the clear presentation of gospel truth, and in power of drawing men to Christ. Brother Lybrand was pre-eminently a pastor. In his intercourse with his flock he was unobtrusive, gentle, sympathizing, judicious, and helpful. The children were not afraid of him—did not shun him—were not rude to him. He drew them with the cords of love, and their young hearts were responsive to his touch. He generally carried with him a choice selection of tracts suited to all ages and conditions, and carefully watched his opportunities wisely to distribute them. He did much good in this way, and often spoke of it with great satisfaction. In the spring of 1848 he was united in marriage to Miss Sarah Aldred. His widow, four daughters, and three sons survive.

Henry R. Calloway was born May 4, 1820, near Laurel, Del. In April, 1843, he was one of a class of fifteen to join the Philadelphia Conference. Only Drs. G. D. Carrow and Thos. Murphy now remain among us of that number. His first appointment was to East Mauch Chunk, and subsequently he was in charge as follows: Bethel Circuit, Stoddartsville, junior preacher at Nazareth and Mission, Haddington, Phœnixville, Salisbury, Md.; Kensington, Philadelphia; Mount Zion, Manayunk, Marcus Hook, Chester Circuit, Port Deposit, agent for Wilmington Female College, Talbot, Md., Smyrna, Del., Milestown, Columbia, Nineteenth Street, Philadelphia; Scott, Philadelphia; Saint Peter's, Reading; second pastorate at Phœnixville, Saint Paul's, Lancaster; Sanctuary, Philadelphia; Twenty-eighth Street, Philadelphia; Lykens and Wiconisco, Waynesburg. These fields of labor occupied thirty-nine years of active ministry, and if all were as thoroughly tilled and harvested as the two, Saint Paul's, Lancaster; and Nineteenth Street, Philadelphia, in which our opportunities for observing his work were the best, we are sure he was met, as he entered upon his reward, by a host of those saved through his labors for Christ. He was an acceptable preacher to the best people, and interesting to all. It is proof of his reputation as a public speaker that he was in constant demand for patriotic occasions during the heated discussions of the war period, and it is strong evidence of his unfailing good sense that with all his warm patriotism he never compromised. He was able to serve a border charge in Maryland with the unwavering affection and respect of all parties. His impressive conscientiousness silenced and won those who differed most from him. In the temperance reform he was bold and aggressive. Early in his ministry he married Miss Martha Ford, of Somerset County, Md., but she lived only a few years. On December 13, 1852, he married Miss Adele F. Johnson, of Bristol, Pa., who shared the toils and joys of his ministry most faithfully and efficiently to the last, and who now, with two of their four children, survive him. He died July 8, 1889, and the funeral services were held at his residence, 716 Pine street, Philadelphia.

Levi B. Hughes was born in East Nantmeal, Pa., on the 7th day of May, 1832, and died in the triumph of faith, at Marshallton, Pa., on the 26th day of October, 1889, in the fifty-eighth year of his age. In 1854 he was licensed a local preacher. He was admitted on trial in the Philadelphia Conference in the spring of 1855. He was advanced to deacon's orders and ordained by Bishop Waugh in 1857, and to elder's orders and ordained by Bishop Scott in 1859. Dr. Hughes was married to Miss Emma Barrington Morgan, of Morgantown, Pa., on the 17th day of May, 1864. During his ministry he filled the following appointments: Mauch Chunk, Waynesburg, Montgomery Square, Easton Circuit, Saint Paul's, Lancaster; Bainbridge, Paschalville, Lumberville, Morrisville, Saint James, Radnor, Grove, Middletown, Tremont, Safe Harbor, Eighteenth Street, Second Street, Mount Carmel, Cambria Street, Twenty-eighth Street, Philadelphia; Neshaminy and Bensalem, and Marshallton, where he "ceased at once to work and live." In all this large range of stations and circuits Brother Hughes worked faithfully, and preached the word in demonstration of the Spirit and with power. He toiled hard, sometimes greatly depressed in spirit, encountering all the discouragements and undergoing all the anxiety that come to all who toil in God's vineyard. He was also often cheered by the success of the Gospel, by glorious revivals of religion, by the conversion of sinners, and by the enlargement of the borders of Zion. In all the changes and trials belonging to the itinerant ministry he was cheerful and hopeful. Dr. Hughes was never robust. In 1872 he was made supernumerary for one year. He again became effective in 1866, and entered anew upon his work with all the fervency and earnestness of his early ministry. Dr. Hughes was not favored with large educational advantages in his youth. He, however, availed himself of the best facilities within his reach for mental culture, and by persistent study and close application acquired extensive knowledge in many departments of learning. He was a man of fine intellectual endowments and superior natural ability. He easily mastered mental difficulties, and firmly grasped the principles of truth. His preaching powers were of a high order; he was born an orator. His sermons were clear, forcible, and eloquent. On special occasions he ascended to the grandeur of impassioned eloquence, and the sublimity of spiritual thought. His religious convictions were deep, broad, charitable. He was a man of strong faith and mighty in prayer. He died in full possession of his mental faculties, calmly meeting death. His end was peaceful, his hope was full of immortality.

East Maine Conference.

Charles B. Dunn was born in Alexander, Me., December 10, 1815, and died in Hampden, Me., May 25, 1889, of paralysis of the heart. He entered the ministry in 1842. In 1847 the East Maine Conference was organized by the division of the old Maine Conference, and the membership of Brother Dunn was assigned to the East Maine, of which body he continued a beloved and honored member until his death. He served his Conference thirty-six years as pastor, and seven years in the office of presiding elder; then advancing age and failing health compelled him to retire to the honored list of superannuates. He turned aside from the active work to his chosen home with a people he had served two full terms in the pastorate. He leaves, to deplore his absence but to find comfort in his victory, the wife of his early manhood. Brother Dunn was a thorough student of books, a careful observer of men, a critical reader of the events of the age, an original thinker, a profound disciple of the Bible, and a devoted adherent of the Lord Jesus. His analysis of all subjects that engaged his thoughts was penetrating, while his presentation of them was logical, clear, and flashed with the sparkling brilliancy of his keen wit. His pastoral visits were choice moments of intellectual and religious instruction, and his sermons and addresses were mines of golden ore.

Theodore H. Murphy was born at Belfast, Me., October 24, 1857, and died at Guilford May 29, 1889. In 1882 he received a local preacher's license, and the following year supplied at Trenton and Brooklin. April 2, 1884, Brother Murphy married Miss Cora F. Beckett, of Belfast. That spring he entered the East Maine Conference on trial and was stationed at Surry, and the following year at Machias. In 1886 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Warren, and re-appointed to Machias. Here he labored with untiring zeal far beyond his strength, even preaching in the street to those who had no interest in attending service at the church. In 1887 he was stationed at Dover and Foxcroft, but in the fall he was compelled by throat trouble to give up his charge. Going South, he taught in Rust University. Being prostrated by pneumonia, he was superannuated in 1888, after being ordained elder by Bishop Fowler. During the next winter he supplied at Pittsfield, and last spring was made effective and appointed to Guilford Circuit. Although in feeble health he went immediately to his charge, fully determined to do something for the Master with his remaining strength. The day after his arrival he was stricken with paralysis, and after ten days of suffering, borne with patience and faith, he passed to be with God.

Eli Sunderland Walker was born in Batley, England, June 1, 1846, and passed to his reward from Pittsfield, Me., August 6, 1889. Brother Walker came to this country in 1865, and for twenty years was employed in various parts of New England as a fluisher of cloth. While residing in Waverly, R. I., in 1881, he was converted under the ministerial labors of Rev. J. B. Hamilton, and soon after united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was licensed to exhort. In 1883 he came to Dexter, and two years later joined the East Maine Conference and was appointed to Lagrange and Argyle, and the following year was re-appointed to the same charge. In 1887-88 he served the churches at Vanceborough and Forest City, laboring with great zeal both in the pastoral work and in addition striving to liquidate a troublesome debt upon the church property. At our last Conference he was stationed at Pittsfield and Palmyra, where, although in feeble health, he entered upon the work with his accustomed earnestness; but it was soon evident he would not be able to carry forward the work he so much loved. He did not, however, lose his courage, but though unable to preach did what he could for his people until August 6, when he was attacked with hemorrhage of the lungs, and in a few moments breathed his last.

Conference and appointed to Haverhill Street Charge, Lawrence, Mass. He had been with us less than thirteen months when the Master called, and on the morning of December 6 he passed triumphantly into the heavens. Brother McConnell was in the prime of life, being a little more than forty-three years of age. He was born in Ohio, August 17, 1846. He was converted in 1866. In 1871 he was received on trial into the North Ohio Conference. In 1876 he married. His first appointment was Chesterville Circuit; his second was Bloomfield Circuit, and then he was successively stationed at Mount Gilead, Elyria, Worcester. For three years he was Presiding Elder of Sandusky District, North Ohio Conference. Three years he was at Roberts Park, Indianapolis, and one year at Columbus, O. He then chose to change from the West to the East, as above stated. Our departed brother was a man of a clear head, warm heart, and an earnest spirit. His work —always a benediction to the church to which he was appointed—was no less so to the church he was serving when stricken down. He was every-where known as a revivalist and a soul-winner. He loved the Church of Christ as the chosen instrument of God for the world's conversion. He loved the men that ministered at her altars and loved the souls of men. Brother McConnell, though not physically robust, was yet a man of great endurance. No serious illness had ever visited him till this which laid him low in death. It was Saturday night, November 23, when that perilous disease, peritonitis, laid its heavy, agonizing hand upon our brother. The disease developed rapidly and soon it was whispered, "The chances are against him." He was conscious of his great danger and expressed his only hope of recovery to be that God would interfere for his restoration. During this illness his religious experiences were rich in the extreme. He often spoke of the great peace that was settling down upon his soul. The funeral services occurred at the Haverhill Street Church Sunday afternoon, December 8. Thus ends the career of one of God's good and faithful servants.

Kansas Conference.

J. W. GRAHAM was born near Christiansburg, Va., July 1848, and died in Randolph, Kan., May 10, 1889. He was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1869, and one year later was licensed to preach. In 1872 he was admitted to the Virginia Conference, was ordained deacon by Bishop Scott in 1874, and elder by Bishop Bowman in 1876. His appointments were: Carroll, Grayson, and Smith Counties, Va.; Grayson and Carroll Circuit, Withe and Bland, Fincastle, Monroe. He was transferred to Kansas Conference in 1881, and served the following charges: Ellis, Morrill, Clifton, Severance, Waterville Circuit, Irving and Blue Rapids, Circleville, superannuated. He was united in marriage with Miss Susan Jamison, of Pulaski County, Va., in September, 1874, who survives him. Although his educational advantages were very limited he was a very effective, and at times sublimely eloquent, preacher.

W. G. CAMPBELL was born in Pittsburg, Pa., March 27, 1846, and died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Dr. Myers, in Troy, Kan. Brother Campbell joined the Kansas Conference in 1875. His appointments were as follows: Doniphan, Auburn, Meriden and Silver Lake. Then for a number of years, on account of failing health, he sustained a supernumerary relation to the Conference. The last two years of his life he was stationed at Robinson, and was returning to it for the third year when he was taken sick, and was unable to reach home. When his family were sent for and came he said to his son, "My dear boy, whether your father lives or dies, it is all right." He said to his wife on the morning of the day he died, "Lizzie, if this is to be my last day on earth, open the blinds and let in the sunlight; make it as bright as you can." At his request his devoted wife sang, "It is well with my soul," and "Beautiful words of life," in both of which he joined. He was triumphant in the presence of death. Just as the sun was setting he fell asleep in Jesus. Brother Campbell was a son of Rev. D. B. Campbell, whose obituary was read at our Conference last year. He was an acceptable preacher, a faithful pastor, an affectionate husband and father, and a Christian gentleman.

NEHEMIAH GREEN was born in Hardin County, O., March, 1837, and died in Manhattan, January 12, 1890. In the fall of 1859 he entered the Cincinnati Conference and was appointed junior preacher on the Aberdeen Circuit. A wonderful revival occurred on this work, resulting in over two hundred conversions, his labors being particularly blessed. His next field of labor was the old East White Oak Circuit, and then Williamsburg, where, in 1862, he enlisted in Company B, Eighty-ninth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and was commissioned a lieutenant. He subsequently as major of the One Hundred and Fifty-third Ohio took part in the hundred-day service in western Virginia. After returning from the army he was appointed to a charge in the Hillsborough District, where he served until 1865, when he was transferred to the Kansas Conference and stationed at Manhattan. Here, with his usual acceptability, he served two years. In 1866 he was elected lieutenant governor. Governor Crawford resigned, and on November 4, 1866, he became the fourth governor of the State of Kansas. He held this office until the expiration of the term, January 11, 1869. In the spring of 1869 he was appointed Presiding Elder of the Manhattan District, which place he filled for one year, when he was compelled to take a supernumerary relation on account of the health of his wife. She soon died and left him with three helpless children. He afterward married Miss Sturtevant. She survives him. At the Conference in the spring of 1872 he was made effective, and stationed at Holton, where he remained two years. In 1874 he was appointed to Waterville and served one year, when he was superannuated, which was continued until his death.

LIBERTY PRENTICE was born July 9, 1815, in Aurora, N. Y. He professed religion at the early age of thirteen years, and united with Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1837 he removed to Ohio. The following year he was employed to teach in the mission school at Upper Sandusky, among the Wyandotte Indians, in the first missions established among them by the Methodist Episcopal Church. In September, 1838, he was received on trial in the North Ohio Conference, and appointed to the Fort Recovery Mission. In 1840 he was united in marriage to Athalana Hoag. They were married at Collins, N. Y. She died in 1872. The same year he was ordained deacon by Bishop Hedding at Norwalk. His health failed in 1842, so much so that he was given a superannuated relation, and returned to New York State for rest and recuperation. He returned to Ohio in 1843, and was appointed Presiding Elder of the Cleveland District. He moved to Kansas in 1861, being transferred to this Conference at the same time. In 1864–65 he was pastor of Valley Falls Circuit. His last charge was on the Easton Circuit in 1866, when his health failed so that he was not able to complete the year's work. March 12, 1874, he was united in marriage to Mrs. Malinda Orr, of Easton, Kan., who still survives him. On December 18, 1889, while driving through the streets of Valley Falls his horse became frightened and ran away, throwing him from the carriage. In falling he received injuries from which he died immediately. He was a faithful and consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal Church for sixty-one years, and a minister of the Gospel for forty-seven years.

North Indiana Conference.

REUBEN DAVISSON ROBINSON was born in Clarke County, O., August 10, 1818, and died in Indianapolis August 18, 1889, aged seventy-one years. In 1845 he was received on trial in the North Indiana Conference. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Janes, and elder by Bishop Waugh. His appointments were as follows: Independence Circuit, Williamsport, Newport, Logansport, Wayne Street, Fort Wayne, Professor in Fort Wayne College, President of Fort Wayne College, at the same time serving as Presiding Elder of Fort Wayne and Warsaw Districts; Centennial Conference Agent, Trinity Church, Indianapolis; Presiding Elder of Indianapolis District, Presiding Elder of Greensburg District, President of Fort Wayne College, Presiding Elder of Kokomo District, Elkhart, Presiding Elder of Muncie District, Greenfield, Superintendent of the Board of Control of Deaconess Work. In 1864 he was the leader of the delegation of this Conference in the General Conference. For a long time he has been one of the trustees of Fort Wayne College. He has for years been the chairman of our Committee on Education, and at the time of his death was one of our visitors to De Pauw University. September 1, 1847, he was married to Miss Mary K. Mahurin, who still survives him. Dr. Robinson was a loving husband, a tender and careful father, to whom it was a pleasure to make any sacrifice for his family. He was a man of marked ability in any and every department of church work. He was eloquent in the pulpit, possessing a grand command of language, and speaking with all the unction of a man who believes with all his heart in his message. He was an excellent pastor. He was an efficient presiding elder, tenderly caring for the interests of his preachers, defending them eloquently, preserving their secrets, and never babbling about them before the laity. As professor and president of Fort Wayne College, both in the departments of instruction and of executive administration, he carried the institution through one of the darkest periods of its history, and by his counsels and influence in its Board of Trustees, he aided in maintaining it to this hour.

ORANGE V. LEMON was born in Clarke County, O., January 27, 1813, and died in the city of Richmond, Ind., September 30, 1889, in the seventy-seventh year of his age. In 1841 he was appointed by the Rev. Aaron Wood as a supply on the Warsaw Circuit. This year he was admitted on trial in the Indiana Conference, and was re-appointed to Warsaw. From this time for thirty-seven years he was engaged in effective and arduous work. At the division of the Indiana Conference, his membership fell in the North Indiana Conference of which he remained a member as long as he lived. The statement of his work is as follows: Warsaw Circuit, ordained deacon by Bishop Andrew, appointed to Union, Mishawaka, ordained elder by Bishop Hamline, appointed to Terre Coupee Circuit, Marion Circuit, Presiding Elder of Peru District, Agent of Fort Wayne College, Centerville and Cambridge, Agent of the American Bible Society, Presiding Elder of the Richmond District, Chaplain of the Thirty-sixth Regiment Indiana Volunteers, Presiding Elder of the Muncie District. In 1867 he was made financial agent for the North Indiana Conference, his agency covering the interests and accounts of the Preachers' Aid Society, Asbury University, Mission House, Garrett Biblical Institute, and Fort Wayne College. These trusts he continued to hold until he superannuated. In 1870 he supplied a vacancy as Presiding Elder of Anderson District, but relinquished the appointment at Conference in order to devote his entire attention to the agency; 1873–76 he was Presiding Elder of Goshen District. In 1877 he was sent to White Water Circuit, where he remained one year, and in 1878, at the session at Anderson, he was obliged by failing health to take a superannuated relation. His long service comprised eight years in the pastorate, sixteen and a fraction in the presiding eldership, ten in financial agencies, and some months as army chaplain. During this time he was one of the most active and influential men in this body. He was elected as a delegate to the General Conference at the sessions of 1856, 1864, and 1872, and was a reserve delegate in 1868. He was also a member of the Book Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church 1872–76. During our sessions he always took a keen interest in all our business. Rising to the front of the Conference early in his ministry by his ability and influence, he held his commanding station until failing health compelled his retirement. Kind, thoughtful, fatherly to the young men, tender and loving, he is cherished in the hearts of many of us whom he befriended, and to whom he was a father. The possessor of a melodious voice, he often led our devotions and hymns. Faithful, earnest, devoted, a pure gospel preacher, there was no one who carried more delicate responsibilities, bore more arduous toils, or whose influence was more deeply felt in our midst than Brother Lemon. After his superannuation he first resided in Winchester for some years, and then removed to Richmond, where he remained until the day of his death. He was first married, at the age of twenty, to Miss Rosetta J. Jones, who lived some three years, and left one daughter, who preceded her father to the better world. In 1837 he married Miss Charlotte Warnock, of La Porte County, who died in Richmond in 1870. In 1872 he married Mrs. Mary C. Ferris, his now widowed companion, who faithfully ministered to him during his long illness.

ALPHEUS J. LEWELLEN was born in Randolph County, Va., September 8, 1824. When he was about thirteen years of age his parents removed to Indiana, in 1837. He was converted in August, 1841. July 27, 1846, he was married to Miss Eleanor Kinnett, of Windsor, Randolph County, Ind, who is now his widow. April, 1868, he was appointed as supply on the Montpelier Circuit. At our session in 1864 he was admitted on trial in this Conference. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Clark, and elder by Bishop Thomson. His appointments were as follows: Warren Circuit, Alexandria Circuit, Lincoln Circuit, Xenia and Boxley. In 1873 and 1874 he was supernumerary, but supplied Tipton Station a portion of the time. Being again made effective, he was appointed to Jerome, Eaton, Farmland, Macy, La Gro, Warren, Dunkirk and Upland, where his health failed. With the exception of Warren he remained in each of these charges two years. At Eaton he built an excellent brick church. About a month after his appointment to Upland his health failed so that he was obliged to resign his charge. He then took up his residence in Dunkirk, where he continued to live until his death. Here he died in great peace November 14, 1889, at the age of sixty-five years. Brother Lewellen was a man of great usefulness, beloved by multitudes on the charges he served, and in every way was a successful and faithful minister of the Gospel. He was a man of commanding presence and of exemplary life, whose daily walk exemplified the Gospel he preached.

RICHARD B. POWELL was born near White Water, Ind., January 23, 1847. He was converted at the age of ten years. He was recommended by the White Water Quarterly Conference to the North Indiana Annual Conference, and admitted on trial in the spring of 1871. From this Conference he was appointed as junior preacher on the Butler Circuit, which he served one year. His appointments were La Fontaine, Windfall, Spiceland, McCordsville, New Britton, Alto, Cadiz, and Middletown, making in all nineteen years of service. Brother Powell was married to Miss Sarah H. Welling, near Indianapolis, Ind., on the 25th day of May, 1876. Some three years ago our brother had a severe attack of sickness, from which it was thought by his friends he would not recover. Although it did not terminate in immediate death, yet he never fully recovered. However, he continued to perform the labors of a Methodist minister. He departed this life on the 8th day of March, at the parsonage in Middletown, Ind., aged forty-three years. His wife and daughter survive him. Brother Powell was an earnest and active worker, and as a pastor he was highly esteemed, and his untiring efforts were appreciated of men and blessed of God.

Troy Conference.

Elisha Button Haff was born in Peru, N. Y., November 4, 1819, and died in the same place June 17, 1889, aged sixty-nine years. Brother Haff was a superannuated member of the Troy Conference, who, since his retirement from active service, about fourteen years ago, had resided in Amsterdam, N. Y. His death came suddenly, while on a visit to his sister. He entered the ministry in 1845, and continued in active service, with the exception of a single year, when he was disabled by an accident, until 1876, a period of thirty-one years. He was married in June, 1847, to Sarah J. Hathaway, who preceded him to the better land by several years. His appointments in the Conference, as nearly as can be ascertained at this writing, were: Adams and Cheshire, Mass.; Bristol, Vt.; Eden, Vt.; New Lebanon, N. Y.; Stamford and Monkton, Vt.; Ellenburg and Elizabethtown, N. Y.; Milton, Hyde Park, Underhill, and Lincoln, Vt.; Petersburg, N. Y.; Pownal, Vt.; Cheshire, Mass.; Central Bridge and West Amsterdam, N. Y. He was a preacher of more than average ability, often strikingly original in his presentations of truth. As a citizen he kept himself well informed on all public questions, and was faithful to his convictions of duty in respect to all the moral, social, and political issues of our time. He seemed to grow more progressive and hopeful in spirit as he advanced in years. He was in a remarkable degree free from the ambition for place and power. With aspirations a little higher and stronger he would, with his abilities, have filled a larger sphere, and perhaps have been a still more useful minister. He was a true friend. The pastors of the church in which he worshiped during the years of his superannuation all bear grateful witness to his brotherly spirit and his loyalty to the Church. He was a constant and helpful attendant on all the means of grace, was never querulous, censorious, unsympathetic, was always ready to render any assistance in his power—was always kindly, helping to stay up the hands of his pastor in every good work. He sleeps the sleep of the just and the good.

Xurry H. Towsley was born in Panton, Vt., October 23, 1858. In August, 1879, he was converted. He married Miss Queenie Dalton at Whitehall, N. Y., July 23, 1883. From his conversion the call of the ministry was evidently upon him, but a deep sense of his insufficiency led him to hesitate to enter upon the work of that sacred calling. At last he yielded, and, returning from the West, repaired to Boston to pursue his theological studies. But the pressure of work was upon him, and at the session of Troy Conference in the spring of 1886 he was admitted on trial, having supplied Mooers Forks one year under the elder. His appointments were: Mooers Forks, Valcour, and Beekmantown. Brother Towsley had but just entered upon his work at Beekmantown when taken ill of typhoid malaria, which, aggravating a heart difficulty of former years, ended his life after ten weeks of intense suffering. As a final effort for recovery he undertook a journey into the Adirondack region, but the attempt was too great, and, proceeding only to Dannemora, he lingered a few days, and died August 8, 1889. In his brief ministry Brother Towsley proved himself to be endowed with rare gifts, which promised great usefulness. Scholarly in habit, clear and convincing as a preacher, gentle as a child in social intercourse, abundant in labors, thoroughly consecrated to his Master's business, he won all hearts, and amply justified the frequent prophecy of a brilliant career. He leaves a young widow, the support and inspiration of his brief ministry, to hope for a better reunion beyond "this vale of tears."

Harvey F. Austin was born in Waterbury, Vt., July 26, 1831, and died at the home of his son-in-law, F. H. Taylor, in Vergennes, Vt., October 13, 1889. He was converted at the age of twenty-one years, and soon felt himself called to the ministry. Having in 1857 completed his course of study he served one year as a supply under the presiding elder at Alburg, Vt., and in the spring of 1858 was received on trial in the Troy Conference. His appointments, with a single exception, were in his native State, and were as follows: Winooski, Fairfax, Shelburne, North Ferrisburg, Scranton, Benson, Rutland, Greenwich, N. Y.; Saint Johnsbury, Newport, Bellows Falls, Vergennes, Brandon, and the second time Winooski, where, after a year and a half of successful work, he entered into rest. In nearly all these charges his labors resulted in the conversion of souls and in substantial improvements to church property. From a memorandum found among his papers it has been ascertained that the total number of probationers received by him on his several charges was nearly seven hundred, an average of but little less than twenty-five each year, and that he raised for building and improving church property something over twenty-five thousand dollars. This is a noble record, and shows something of the faithfulness and fidelity with which he prosecuted his work as a Christian minister. He was married January 6, 1859, to Miss Mary H. Johnson, of Enosburg, Vt. She survives him. Brother Austin was a preacher of commanding ability, combining ready and forceful utterance with striking originality of thought. In social life he was genial and attractive, with a pleasant word for young and old. The children loved him, and all welcomed his coming to their homes. This, with his deep piety and earnest devotion to the work, made him specially successful as a pastor. His last sickness was protracted and painful, and yet throughout all the weary days and weeks of his suffering he maintained a cheerful patience and a triumphant faith. Early in the summer of 1886 he was prostrated with paralysis which affected his entire left side. From this attack he soon rallied, and, after resting a few weeks, was able to resume his work. He continued in comfortable health, and was able to do full work as preacher and pastor until July last, when he suffered a second stroke of paralysis from which he never rallied.

Jesse F. Craig, for fifty-five years an honored member of this Conference, died October 16, 1889, aged nearly seventy-nine. Brother Craig was converted at nineteen, and soon asked the consent of his unconverted parents to conduct family prayers at home. This privilege was cheerfully granted. Ere long both his parents followed him into the Church of his choice. He laid the foundation of an education at Cazenovia. His intellectual attainments were considerable. Called to the ministry, he joined the Troy Conference, and spent his whole ministerial life within its bounds. His appointments were: Rutland and Pittsford, Vt.; Castleton, Poultney, and Granville, Castleton again, Chazy, Fort Ann, Chester, Bennington, Brunswick and Cooksborough, Crescent. In 1846 he asked and received a location, induced so to do by his convictions on the anti-slavery question. Seeking business as a means of livelihood, he purchased a paper-mill, a store, and several houses. Into one of these houses he moved on Wednesday, and on the following Friday all his property was destroyed by fire. Attempting to start anew, he was interrupted in his purpose by the severe, and, as it proved, the fatal sickness of his wife. On her dying bed this godly woman begged him to return to the ministry, expressing her belief that God was speaking to him through his repeated misfortunes. In 1847 he took up the work he had laid down, and was stationed at Grand Isle. Thereafter, till his superannuation, he labored on the following charges: Waterbury, Essex, Hampton, Vt.; Corinth and Jessup's Landing, Pownal, Petersburg, Watervleit, Guilderland, Minaville, Charlton and Glenville, Clifton Park, Tomhannock and Valley Falls, Arlington, Argyle, Easton and North Cambridge, Granville, Chestertown. Notable revivals cheered him on several of these charges, while on none of them did he fail to see some fruit of his labors. Faithful, prudent, wise, intelligent, he honored his Christian and ministerial profession. Brother Craig married in 1834 Miss Cordelia Miller, of Luzerne, N. Y., and, in 1847, Miss Charlotte Woodworth, of Bennington, Vt., who survives him.

ABEL FORD was born in Schuyler, N. Y., October 31, 1814, and died at his home in Gloversville, N. Y., November 19, 1889. He was converted in 1837. In the same meeting his two brothers, Salisbury and William, were converted, and all three became ministers of great usefulness. Abel Ford was received on trial in Troy Conference in 1843, and was sent to Greenfield. His subsequent appointments were: Mechanicville, Arlington, Vt.; Fort Ann, Wilton, Pawlet, Vt.; Fair Haven, Vt.; Peru, Schuyler Falls, Belcher, Easton, Cobleskill, Esperance, Stillwater, and Clifton Park. Brother Ford was a minister of the olden time, a vigorous Methodist, holding tenaciously to our doctrines and usages. He was greatly gifted in prayer and exhortation. He was a man of deep spiritual experience, and the intense longing of his soul was the conversion of sinners and the sanctification of believers. At the Conference of 1872 he retired from the active work of the ministry and moved to Gloversville, where he continued to reside until his decease. His illness was brief.

Baltimore Conference.

JOSEPH FRANCE was born August 26, 1819, died July 27, 1889. Between these dates we may read seventy years of human life—sixty years of "the life of faith in the Son of God," forty-seven years of zealous work in the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1842 he was admitted on trial in the Baltimore Conference. For four years Joseph France traveled circuits. In his fifth year he was stationed in York, Pa. Here he was married to Miss Susan Strickler, in whom he found a true helpmeet, and who still abides with us. Leaving York, he was appointed to Columbia Street, Baltimore. His next charges were in Pennsylvania; first at Danville, then at Williamsport. His health failing at the latter place, a supernumerary relation was granted him, in which he continued from 1854–60. Resuming the effective relation in 1861 he became tract and Sunday-school agent. In 1862 he was re-appointed to York, Pa., where he spent two years, and then was returned to his native city, where he remained for eighteen consecutive years, divided among Harford Avenue, East Baltimore District, High Street, Whatcoat, Union Square, and Caroline Street. He was a delegate to the General Conference of 1868. In 1882 he was appointed to Fourth Street, Washington, where he spent three years. His next and last appointment was Center Street, Cumberland. Here at the expiration of two years of faithful work he was compelled by advancing age and declining health to ask a supernumerary relation. Locating his residence in Baltimore, he spent the last two years of his life in the neighborhood of the new church that perpetuates the City Station, in which he began his Christian life and work. In his preaching Dr. France was a clear, earnest, and helpful expounder of divine truth. His sermons excelled in their evangelical tone, and were impressive in manner. They had the marrow of the Gospel in them. Divine unction pervaded them. Divine power attended them to the hearts of the hearers. He was richly endowed with sympathy. This intensely sympathetic nature was developed and directed by grace. He was thus eminently fitted to comfort the sorrowing and to encourage the faint. He was a son of consolation. As an administrator he was most judicious. He was a man of sound judgment, to which was joined great prudence. He knew well how to take care of young converts. He received at one time into full membership a class of one hundred and fifty probationers. As a man he was eminent in goodness. There always seemed to be about him a well-poised dignity, a habit of thoughtfulness, a kindness of heart, a purpose of fairness in dealing with others, a refinement of manners befiting the Christian preacher and pastor. But his chief charm was his goodness. He not only professed, but was an example of holiness. His dying was in beautiful harmony with the whole spirit of his life of faith and love. At one time he quoted the dying words of his sainted father, "There is light ahead." And strikingly characteristic of the man were the last words that dropped from his whitening lips: "Love, eternal love to all!" And so a life all radiant in the beauty of its Lord leaped to heaven and laid itself in surging flames of love at Jesus's feet.

ROBERT M. LIPSCOMB was born February 19, 1807, at Georgetown, D. C., born again September 4, 1827, and received on trial by the Baltimore Annual Conference in March, 1831. His appointments were successively Loudon Circuit, Harford Circuit, junior preacher in City Station, Baltimore; Fredericksburg, Staunton, Waynesborough, Loudon, Winchester Circuit, Harper's Ferry, Hillsborough, High Street, Baltimore; Whatcoat, Baltimore; Chambersburgh, Pa.; Ebenezer, Washington; Jefferson, Hillsborough again, East Loudon, Baltimore Circuit, Fairfax, closing his work in the effective relation with his second term as pastor of the Baltimore Circuit; supernumerary in 1867; superannuate from 1868 to the term of his decease. Entered into rest February 5, 1890. His ministerial life extended over fifty-nine years. It was a life of singular purity. Sweet spirited, affectionate, devoted to the Church, abundant in labors, faithful to every trust, he won and maintained a high place in the esteem and love of his brethren. His preaching was of a high order of evangelical exposition and application. He was "a workman that needed not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." His style was clear and concise. He was eminently practical and experimental, and a devoted adherent to the peculiarities of our church economy. He was married in 1836 to Miss Eliza M. Hopkins, who survives her husband after fifty-four years of perfect oneness in sympathy and work. Repeatedly during his last sickness he uttered his desire "to depart and be with Christ." As the supreme hour drew near he was heard to exclaim, "Is this earth or heaven? If it be earth it must be that part which is nearest heaven."

CHARLES A. REID was born in Rockbridge County, Va., February 21, 1820, and died in Westminster, Md., March 2, 1890. On the 2d of March, 1839, he was brought into vital relationship with Methodism by being converted to God at her altars, and by then uniting in church fellowship with her people. In the spring of 1843 Brother Reid was received on trial in the Baltimore Conference, and for the first three years of his itinerant life was assigned to duty in the mountains of south-west Virginia, his appointments in that region being regarded as the most trying fields of labor then within the bounds of the Conference. Coming to Maryland in 1846, he traveled Great Falls, Hereford, and Westminster Circuits.

While in this last named work he became acquainted with the family of Mr. Joshua Warfield, a prominent citizen of Carroll County, Md., whose hospitable home during his father's life had been Bishop Asbury's principal stopping-place when he was visiting that section, and that was also noted as one of the always open houses for the entertainment of Methodist preachers. It was here Brother Reid met the lady who became his wife—Elizabeth, the daughter of Joshua Warfield. After sharing with him the toils and experiencing with him the peculiar satisfactions of the itinerancy for nearly forty years, his faithful and devoted helpmeet survives him. The remaining years of our brother's ministry were passed in Maryland, with the exception of one year in Staunton, one in Alexandria, and part of a year in Martinsburg, W. Va.—from which last place he was driven by the armies of the Confederacy—and one year at Union Charge in Washington, D. C. He served with marked success North Baltimore Station, Union Square, Franklin Street, and Jefferson Street, in Baltimore. As a preacher Brothed Reid was noted for the clearness and directness of his statements, the closeness with which he kept to the Scripture he was expounding, and for the tremendous earnestness with which he pressed home the truth on conscience and heart. And his preaching was nearly always "in demonstration of the Spirit." The "signs following" were great and gracious at nearly every appointment he served. Revivals of religion were among the usual features of his pastorates. He is remembered by his brethren who knew him in the prime of his ministry as one of the most successful soul-winners of the Conference. In his administration of the law of the Church in cases of members who were guilty of infracting it, he was strict to a degree sometimes thought to be extreme and injudicious. Solicitous to add to the Church such as were being saved, and honored of God to a remarkable degree in the achievement of that result, he nevertheless never shrank from the expulsion of those that "walked disorderly" when the circumstances seemed, in his judgment, to call for such action. The last fifteen years of Brother Reid's life were years of blessed quiet and rest. In his country home, or in his comfortable residence in Westminster, he lived in comparative freedom from care; like his divine Lord, going about doing good; busy as his strength would allow in works of mercy, charity, and love, mellowing with the years, maturing in the graces of the Christly mind. Very early in the morning of Sunday, March 2, and just as the fifty-first anniversary of his second birth was being ushered in, he was suddenly turned into the valley called Death, and before the day was done had swept out of it into the broad place of the celestial country.

James Gamble, one of the fathers of the Baltimore Conference, was born near Carlisle, Pa., on the 22d of February, 1802, and died in Hagerstown, Md., on the evening of Monday, March 10, 1890. He was converted to God in Winchester, Va. In 1837 he entered the regular ministry, joining the Baltimore Conference, and being appointed to Bath Circuit, Va. His succeeding appointments were Christiansburg Circuit, Va.; Covington Circuit, Va.; Deerfield Circuit, Va., Baltimore Home Mission, East Bedford Circuit, Pa.; Monroe Circuit, Va.; Sinamahoning Mission, Pa.; Luzerne Circuit, Pa.; West Clearfield, Pa.; Baltimore City Mission, Dallas Street Station, Harford Mission, Md.; Montour Mission, Danville, Pa.; Liberty Valley Circuit, Pa. On the last named circuit his health failed him. It was a three weeks' circuit, but brother Gamble put all the appointments into two weeks, and attempted to conduct it on that plan. The strain was too much for his strength—already impaired by the peculiarly hard work to which he had been assigned during all the previous years of his ministry—and he so broke down under the pressure that he wrote to his presiding elder to fill his place. Compelled to retire from the work, he with his wife went to Baltimore for rest. At the Conference of 1859 he was given a supernumerary relation. After several years had elapsed, his health being partially restored, he accepted the position of city missionary for all the Methodist charges of East Baltimore, serving in that capacity from 1865 until 1873. At the end of that period he finally retired from the active work and took up his residence in Hagerstown, Md. Here he continued to live until he was transferred to the place of the "many mansions." Brother Gamble was a typical "old-fashioned" Methodist preacher. He possessed no extraordinary mental or rhetorical power, but he knew "the truth as it is in Jesus," and with great simplicity of speech, but unmistakable clearness and emphasis, he declared the Gospel of Jesus Christ. It was at a meeting of which he had charge that the celebrated Bishop Taylor was converted. All of Brother Gamble's sermons ministered to the growth in grace of believers, and many of them were attended by remarkable displays of the awakening and renewing power of God's Spirit. He had an unselfish, loving, sweet, and gentle spirit, and was an example of the Christian perfection about which he so much loved to preach. He had great faith in God, and he was in favor with all who knew him. His life was beautiful, and his death was a glorious victory.

Arkansas Conference.

Henry Jackson Newell was born in Cumberland County, Me., May 21, 1820, and was converted October 6, 1834, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was licensed to preach in the year 1838. He was married to Miss Harriet E. Hutchinson in 1851. In 1852 he came to Arkansas and took charge of Solesbury Institute. In 1853 he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Toward the close of 1853 he was admitted into the Arkansas Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. In 1858 he asked for, and was granted, a certificate of location. In 1862 the Lord took from him the wife of his youth. In 1878 he was received into the Arkansas Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Brother Newell did hard work on poor circuits till three years ago when he was placed on the superannuated list. On April 24 in Atkins, Ark., he calmly fell asleep in Jesus. His remains now rest in Atkins Cemetery. Brother Newell was loved by the brethren of his Conference.

Washington Conference.

Henry Williams departed this life in the month of October, 1889, aged seventy-seven years, at his home in Frederick City, Md. He was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Smith many years ago. His consort preceded him to the glory land about a year ago. He joined this Conference in 1869, and his appointments were: Belair, Md.; Jefferson, Oakville, Norfolk and Princess Anne, and Huntington, in all of which he endeared himself to the people as a humble Christian minister. He was a practical expounder of the word of life. He sustained a superannuated relation for several years until his death, which was the result of a painful accident by being burnt while kindling a fire. During the fearful period of suffering through which he passed he was patient, appropriating to himself this precious promise, "When thou passest through the fire I will be with thee," and when death came to his release he said he was willing and ready.

Saint Louis Conference.

Arthur P. Sallaway was born in Queen Anne County, Md., January 29, 1828, and died of rheumatism at the parsonage in Tipton, Mo., December 22, 1889. He married Miss Mary E. Loller January 15, 1852, at Sudlerville, Md. Brother Sallaway was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church when about thirteen years of age. He came West in 1867, and was received on probation in the Saint Louis Conference in March of the same year. He filled the following appointments: Irondale Circuit, Kimswick Circuit, Marshall Circuit, Pilot Grove Circuit, Smithton, East Sedalia, Windsor Circuit, Rockville and Schell City, East Lynn Circuit, Austin and Pleasant Valley. At our Conference session last spring at Peirce City he was not able to attend, but was appointed to Tipton Circuit. Though in great feebleness he immediately moved to Tipton and settled his family in the parsonage, but his disease (rheumatism) grew worse, so much so that he was not able to preach or to perform any pastoral work during the year. All through his long and severe illness and confinement the members and friends at Tipton were attentive and helpful to himself and family. He bore his long and severe affliction with the patience of a Christian soldier. Brother Sallaway was naturally modest, diffident, and retiring, but firm, meeting every emergency with courage, never seeking favor or place, never neglecting duty, caring for all the interests of the Church. Revivals attended his ministry, churches were built, debts were cleared, unhappy divisions in the church were healed. Among his successes in building churches and parsonages we might point to the churches at Marshall, Malta Bend, East Lynne, Centerview church in the East Lynn Charge, and the parsonage at Windsor. He believed in the doctrines of the Methodist Episcopal Church and preached them. He believed in her usages and practiced them. He kept the rules of the Church and made no attempt to mend them. He was a man of irreproachable character, and a humble and sincere Christian minister.

Russell M. Morgan was born in East Tennessee, December 25, 1809, and died in Eureka Springs, Ark., February 17, 1890. He married Miss Catharine Kearney, September 24, 1833. Brother Morgan was converted in 1842, and in 1843 he was licensed to preach, and supplied Osceola Circuit. For four years he supplied charges in south-west Missouri, and then moved to Arkansas, and entered the traveling connection of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. In that Church he labored faithfully until the breaking out of the Civil War, when he enlisted in the Union army and served faithfully in the ranks until taken prisoner by the Confederates. After his exchange he served as chaplain of the Fifth Kansas Volunteers until the close of the war. In 1866 Brother Morgan joined the Saint Louis Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was appointed to Commerce Circuit. In 1867, as he was bringing his family from Illinois, where they had been removed during the war, when about ten miles from Jackson, Mo., his wife was seized with cholera and died that night; and, because of circumstances then existing, he was compelled to perform the last sad rites of burial himself, and wend his way with his motherless family to his charge. In this Conference Brother Morgan has served Commerce, Perryville, De Soto, Richland, Salem and West Plains Charges, in all of which he did faithful work. In the fall of 1871 he married Mrs. C. J. Smith, of De Soto, Mo., who survives him. During his pastorate at Salem he had a stroke of paralysis, from which, however, he sufficiently recovered to do his work. During his second year at West Plains, while holding a protracted meeting, he was suddenly stricken with blindness, from which he never recovered. He preached his last sermon during this meeting in total blindness. In 1873 he received another stroke of paralysis, from which he never really recovered. From that day to the day of his death he was a constant sufferer, and especially so during the last year of his life. He endured it all with great patience and fortitude. Though paralyzed and blind he retained his vigor of intellect, devotion of heart, and undimmed faith in Christ to the end.

South Kansas Conference.

Henry W. Reed was born in Hillsdale, N. Y., May 7, 1813, and died at his home in Baldwin City, Kan., August 26, 1889. He became a minister before reaching his majority, and was admitted on trial in New York Conference in 1833, and was appointed to Durham and Windham Circuit. In a year the circuit was divided, and Brother Reed was appointed to Windham and Prattsville. In 1835 he was admitted into the New York Conference and ordained deacon, and was transferred to Illinois Conference, and appointed to Dubuque, Ia. In 1836 he was ordained elder and returned to Dubuque. In 1838 he was appointed to Oneida, West Mission, and in 1839 to Plattville, Wis. In 1840 he was made Presiding Elder of Plattville District, where he continued two years. By the division of the Conference he fell to Rock River Conference, and in 1842 was stationed at Galena, Ill. In 1843 he was appointed to Dubuque District, Iowa, and served four years. Iowa was separated from Rock River by the General Conference of 1844, and Dr. Reed was secretary of the first session of Iowa Conference. In 1847 he was appointed to Bloomington Mission District, where he continued three years, the name being changed to Iowa City District in 1849. In 1850 he was appointed to Upper Iowa District, and continued four years. In 1854 he was appointed to Dubuque Circuit, and continued two years, including with his work the second year the agency of Fayette Seminary. In 1856 he was made Presiding Elder of Dubuque District, and continued four years. In 1860 he was appointed to Epworth, and in 1861 he was made presiding elder of Iowa City District again. In 1862 he was appointed by President Lincoln agent of the Blackfeet Indians and Commissioner to trade with the Indians. In 1864 he was again stationed at Epworth. In 1865 he became supernumerary. In 1868 he was again made presiding elder of Dubuque District, and continued four years. In 1872 he was appointed Indian agent among the Idaho Indians, and assigned to Fort Hall, sustaining a supernumerary relation in Upper Iowa Conference. At the close of this service he removed to Kansas. In 1876 he was transferred to Kansas Conference and stationed at Baldwin City. By a division of the Conference in 1876 he fell into South Kansas Conference, and continued pastor at Baldwin City three years. In 1879 he was granted supernumerary relation, in which he continued until 1884, when he became superannuated. The ministry of Dr. Reed extended through fifty-six years. Twenty were devoted to the presiding eldership. In his Conference he took a deep interest in the entire work of the Church. The prosperity steadily enjoyed under his personal administration, and the schools and colleges which he helped to found and foster, are the monuments of his untiring devotion. He was an honored, faithful, and efficient member of six General Conferences, extending from 1844 to 1868, that of 1864 being omitted. During his entire life he had to husband his physical resources, and under advancing years he was constrained to ask a supernumerary and then a superannuated relation.

John McAnulty was born in Berks County, Pa., October 25, 1825, and died in Emporia, Kan., August 13, 1889. When twenty-seven years of age he came to Illinois and spent two years in Mount Morris Seminary, where he received license to preach, after which he spent a year in Garrett Biblical Institute. In 1857 he was married to Rebecca Pitner in Philadelphia. Soon afterward he again came West and resided in Tama County, Ia., two years. In 1859 he moved to Kansas, and in 1860 was appointed pastor of Americus Charge; the Conference then being called the Kansas and Nebraska Conference, and including all the territory of Kansas, Colorado, and Nebraska. For twenty-five consecutive years Brother McAnulty preached in Kansas without a break in his ministry. He spent one term as pastor of First Church, Emporia. The other charges he served were: Princeton, Williamsburg, Neosho Falls, Sedan, Coyville, Virgil and Safford. Four years ago his wife died. The following spring he received a superannuated relation, and then removed to Emporia, where his last battle ended in victory over death. No brief estimate would do justice to Brother McAnulty's character and worth. His work on the various charges he served and the souls that were led to Christ through his ministry are records which honor his memory on earth and in heaven.

DAVID S. BALDWIN was born in Jay County, Ind., April 13, 1841, and died with cancer of the stomach at Burlington, Kan., April 28, 1889. He was converted December 20, 1857. At eighteen years of age he removed to Marshall County, Ind., where on April 3, 1862, he married Malinda C. Marsters. In 1866 they came to Burlington, Kan., where they lived for six years, and during which time he received a local preacher's license from Elder J. Shaw. In 1872 he was admitted on trial into the Kansas Conference, and in 1873, on the division, he fell into the South Kansas Conference, and has remained a member to the time of his death. He was ordained deacon in 1873 by Bishop Bowman, and elder in 1876 by Bishop Peck. His appointments have been as follows: Centropolis, Quenemo and Pomona, Melvern, Neodesha, Coffeyville, Fredonia, Americus, Grenola, North Ottawa, Blue Mound. In 1883, on account of impaired health, he was given a supernumerary relation for one year. Having been unable for work for over four months before the last session of the Conference, he asked a superannuated relation, which was granted. Brother Baldwin was a man devoted to his work, careful in looking after every interest of the Church, and successful in leading souls to Christ. He was a good pastor, a good preacher, and a wise counselor. In his long and painful sickness he was a patient sufferer. As he neared the end his soul triumphed over death, and his end was peace. From his sick bed he led in the prayer at the family worship on Sunday morning, between eight and nine o'clock he ceased to speak, and a little after noon passed peacefully away.

ALEXANDER C. BENNETT was born in Elamsville, Va., May 29, 1856, and died in Athens, Ill., February 1, 1890. He moved with his widowed mother and other members of the family to Illinois in 1870. He was licensed to preach August 13, 1881, and was admitted on trial into the South Kansas Conference in 1882. He served efficiently and with great zeal the following charges, namely: Elk City one year, Grenola one year, Independence Circuit one year, Thayer two years, Altamont one year, Coyville, one year, when, on account of failing health, he was compelled to ask for a superannuated relation, which was granted by his Conference last March at Baldwin. Hoping a change of climate would prove beneficial, he spent a few months in Arkansas, but finding no relief, he turned his steps toward his former home in Illinois, where he might at least enjoy the coveted privilege of a mother's presence, and where, in the event of his death, he could be laid to rest with his own people. He sank peacefully to rest, leaving the blessed assurance to his wife and mother and others that the faith he had preached was amply able to sustain him in the "swelling of Jordan."

MURDOCK M. CAMPBELL was born in Neosho County, Kan., September 10, 1861, and died April 12, 1889. He was admitted on trial into the South Kansas Conference in 1886, and married Miss Alice Ashby May 12, of the same year. He was admitted into full connection with the Conference in 1888. Since his admission into the traveling connection he was pastor of Ottawa Circuit, Homewood Circuit, and Valley Chapel, and at the same time carrying a course of study in the university. Brother Campbell's life was one of struggle. He was an admirable character, an example of genuine manliness. He was firm in his convictions of right; not censorious, but conscientious. He had high notions of Christian living, and lived in harmony with his elevated thought. As a preacher he was plain, practical, and spiritual, holding before his hearers his lofty ideal. In his death the greater bereavement falls upon his young wife and little daughter. He triumphed gloriously, and this last victory was but the crowning of a noble life.

Central Missouri Conference.

EDGAR PITTS was born in Virginia, February 15, 1827, and died at his residence in Springfield, Mo., April 5, 1889. He joined the Conference in 1868. Brother Pitts was pastor of Wesley Chapel at Saint Louis when it was known as "Little Rock" church, and also again after the name was changed. He was pastor of Sedalia church for several years and did much to promote the cause of Methodism wherever he labored. He was a faithful pastor, an affectionate father, and an earnest Christian worker. Brother Pitts ranked among the worthy, faithful, and untiring workers of our Conference. He was one of those earnest Christian Methodist preachers who are always ready to go anywhere the bishops see fit to send them. He did all in his power to build up the cause of the Master and advance Methodism. At the last session of this Conference held in Louisiana, Mo., he received his last appointment from Bishop Warren. During this time Brother Pitts was unable to attend the Conference, being confined at home with an attack of pneumonia fever, from which he never recovered. The end came rather suddenly, but the faithful servant hailed with joy the coming of the Master. His last words were to the effect that "all was well."

Mexico Conference.

SIMON LOZA was born October 28, 1855, in Churipicco, State of Guanajuato, Mexico. His parents were deeply religious but not fanatical, and they took great pains in the cultivation of their son's heart, preparing him for life's conflict. Trained under the influence of liberal and noble principles his soul rejected with indignation the errors of the Roman Catholic Church. He acquired noteworthy literary triumphs in some of the local publications for which he wrote. His writings, whether scientific, moral, or religious, were always characterized by great seriousness and right judgment. March 5, 1885, he was married in Guanajuato to Miss Ramona Cabrera, who was then teacher of the girls' school in connection with the Methodist Church in that city. On August 19, 1876, the first Quarterly Conference of our Church met in Guanajuato and granted a local preacher's license to young Loza, who less than three months before had come to know the Gospel. He at once entered upon the discharge of his duties, and attracted the sympathies of all who heard him. His preaching, always impregnated by remarkable purity of doctrine, became more and more spiritual by reason of his own growth in spirituality. On January 29, 1882, Brother Loza received deacon's orders at the hands of Bishop Andrews, and on January 18, 1885, he was ordained elder by Bishop Harris, and was one of the original members of the first Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Mexico. During more than six years he labored as assistant pastor in Guanajuato, where many souls remembered him as the instrument in God's hands for their conversion. Afterward he was sent in the same relation to the church in Orizaba, and soon became preacher in charge of that important work. The fidelity with which he discharged all his duties as a minister showed once again the nobility and rectitude of his moral principle.

During the five years of his residence in Orizaba he acquired an extended influence among different classes of society in the State of Vera Cruz, and placed the Protestant cause on a footing of respectability far greater than it had there enjoyed. In 1888 he was appointed to the pastorate in Puebla, and passed a year of active and zealous labors, building up the Church in that city with praiseworthy success. Scarcely had he entered upon his second year's services when the sickle of death cut the thread of his existence and our beloved Brother Loza entered into rest.

Maine Conference.

Onsville Harvey Stevens was born in Kennebunkport, Me., February 1, 1831, and died in Newfield, November 23, 1889. His parents were among the earliest Methodists in that part of the State. At the age of eleven he was converted, and soon after was received into the Methodist Episcopal Church. In the spring of 1869 he joined the Maine Conference and was stationed at Falmouth and Cumberland. His subsequent appointments were Cornish, Durham, Falmouth, Kittery, Goodwin's Mills, Fryeburg, York, Mount Vernon, Wayne, Cape Porpoise, and Newfield. Last November, while holding a series of meetings in Newfield, he met with an accident when he was procuring wood for the church furnace, and took a severe cold which resulted in pneumonia. He was not thought dangerously ill, but after three days' sickness he suddenly passed away by paralysis of the heart November 23, 1889, aged fifty-eight years. In 1860 he was married to Miss Clarinda Cobb, of Brunswick, who died in 1867. In 1870 he married for his second wife Miss Olive Downing, of Kennebunkport. Brother Stevens was a good man, gentle under great trials, loving and true to his friends, faithful and successful in the service of his Master. The church edifice at Mount Vernon is a monument of his persevering energy. Converts in the different charges are his living epistles of commendation, and his name is enshrined in the hearts of his sorrowing widow, his beloved daughter, and his wide circle of friends. His praise is in the Church he loved and served so well, and his record is on high.

John Mitchell was born in Newfield, Me., September 10, 1819, and died at Kezar Falls, Me., December 16, 1889, aged seventy years. When fourteen years of age he was soundly converted. At the age of twenty-six he joined the Maine Conference, and continued to preach until 1874, with five years intermission, during which time ill health compelled him to rest from ministerial work, but not to desist entirely from labor. He purchased a farm in Franklin County and cultivated the soil. At the end of that time, with recruited health, he resumed the active work of the ministry, and was appointed to Fairfield, where he remained only six months, when he engaged in the service of the Christian Commission for two years. He was afterward appointed chaplain to the Sixteenth Maine Regiment, where he faithfully served until the surrender of Lee. After the war he gave himself with renewed vigor to ministerial work with marked success until 1874, when failing health compelled him to retire. He took a superannuated relation, and lived in comparative retirement with his beloved wife until her death in 1888. The last year and a half of his life was spent with his daughter, whose kind ministrations soothed his passage to the grave. As long as strength held out he attended the services of the sanctuary, where his presence was a blessing, and his testimony and prayers an inspiration to duty. A good man and a faithful Christian has passed from our midst.

S. F. Wetherbee was born in Harvard, Mass., January 23, 1815, and died in Kennebunk April 24, 1890. He was converted in Dexter, Me., December, 1838. He was received on trial in the Maine Conference in 1845. In due time he was passed to the orders of deacon and elder, and continued to fill his place as an effective and able minister of Christ until the work of life was done. He was married to Miss Sophia W. Hook, of Skowhegan, March 4, 1838. Brother Wetherbee has served in quite a number of the most important charges in the Maine and East Maine Conferences, and in all has been true to the great interests of the Church and the honor of God. In the Maine Conference no man has taken a deeper and more helpful interest in the welfare of our superannuated ministers than he, and we owe much to his efforts in the increased amount of our collections for these needy and worthy men of God. He was twice elected to the General Conference, and there, as in every other place of trust, he was faithful to the duties committed to his care. His sickness was brief, and in the midst of suffering he was able to say: "All is bright. All is clear. Glory to God!"

Central Pennsylvania Conference.

A. Duncan Yocum was born in York, Pa., February 26, 1838, and died in Altoona, Pa., June 14, 1889. He was a soldier in the war for the preservation of the Union, and at the beginning of the war was commissioned second lieutenant of Company H, York Voltigeurs, April 22, 1861. On December 8, 1862, he was commissioned first lieutenant of Company C, One Hundred and Sixty-sixth Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers. He entered the ministry in the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1866, becoming a member of the East Baltimore, now Central Pennsylvania Conference. The following is a list of his appointments: Newport, Mifflin Circuit, Great Island, McVeytown, Second Church, Chambersburg; Clearfield, Milton, Bellefonte, Carlisle, First Church, Altoona; Everett, Carlisle again, Eighth Avenue, Altoona. These names give a very inadequate idea of his labor in the work which he loved, and to which he devoted his entire self. Brother Yocum was married April 2, 1868, to Laura M. Gere. Our brother entered upon his work in Altoona with his usual zeal and ardor. On the second Sunday after his arrival, while in the pulpit and while reading the second hymn, he had a slight attack of what is now known to have been paralysis. Beyond a temporary loss of vision he seemed to experience no ill effects, and after a brief delay proceeded with his services, preaching an excellent sermon. He was advised to take a vacation, but decided to go on with his work, at least to the extent of preaching one sermon a week, and this he did, attending also to all the other varied duties which crowd into a minister's life. His last words to his congregation, except the reading of the Scriptures, were in connection with the appointment of a temperance prayer-meeting for the following Wednesday evening, and the sermon which he had carefully prepared, but was not permitted to deliver, was a temperance sermon from Paul's noble words: "We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves." While reading the Scripture lesson he was stricken down. He was removed to the parsonage, but never regained consciousness, and voiceless he passed from labor to reward. If we speak of Brother Yocum as a man, we come directly to his heart, a large, generous heart that ever throbbed in sympathy with the woes of all with whom he came in contact. He was generous to a fault. He was indeed the exemplification of all that is Christ-like in human character. Modest, gentle, sweet-spirited, charitable, none could know him and not love him. As a minister he shunned not to declare the whole counsel of godliness. He possessed more than ordinary literary talent, and was fond of giving expression to his thought in metrical form. His sermons were models of literary beauty. Every sentence fitted into its place. But they instructed as well as pleased. There was spiritual food in all he said. But, after all, his life was his best sermon. He was a good man and full of the Holy Ghost. No one could have taken him for any thing but God's minister. And all who came in contact with him were moved by the transparent purity, the sweet temper of his life. It is not surprising that he passed into the embrace of death as a child falls into slumber in its mother's arms. The Eternal arms were about and around him. As a pastor he was a model. The habit of his life was devotion to all duty, and he was regular and constant in his visits to the homes of his people. His work is done, having devoted his superior abilities and best years to the work of God and the Church.

OLIVER EGE. This name that for many years stood first on the roll of the Central Pennsylvania Conference will appear there no more. He was born in Boiling Springs, Pa., in the year 1800, and died in Mechanicsburg, Pa., August 9, 1889, in the ninetieth year of his age, and the sixty-second of his ministry. Between the dates just given was comprehended a life as useful and honored as it was extended. He was converted to God and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church in Harrisburg, Pa., in 1819. It was not very long after his commencement of the Christian life when the thoughts that he cherished touching the Christian ministry crystallized into convictions, and he then invested the money he had saved—the earnings of a modest business venture—in pursuing further studies under a Dr. Hewing for about two years. He was licensed to exhort March 23, 1825. Two years later he was admitted on trial into the Baltimore Conference. In 1829 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Roberts, and on March 20, 1831, he was ordained elder by Bishop Elijah Hedding. In February, 1833, he was united in marriage to Miss Susanna P. Thompson, of Berwick, Pa. For thirty-three years he worked faithfully for God and man. He was a splendid type of that class of godly men who, for the joy that was set before them, endured the cross, despised the shame, gloried in tribulation, and continued with heroic perseverance, toiling on until they saw the pleasure of the Lord prosper in their hand, the wilderness and the desert place blossom and rejoice as the rose, and where sin abounded grace did much more abound. We can only surmise what their emotions must have been as they witnessed the marvelous growth of their loved Church. Doubtless their gratitude was equaled only by the reverent wonder that ever and anon found expression in the words, "What hath God wrought." The charges served by Brother Ege during his active ministry were: Concord, Phillipsbury, Bellefonte, Sunbury, Berwick, Lycoming, Northumberland, Sunbury again, Great Falls, Codorus Mission, Shrewsbury, East Hereford, Ebenezer, Patapsco Station, Calvert, Newport, Severn, Great Falls, Frederick Circuit, York Springs, Wrightsville. As a preacher he was strong and effective. He did not affect the arts of the orator nor seek the polish of the rhetorician. One who heard him long ago said: "He was direct, earnest, forcible and heart searching." In 1860 he was given a supernumerary relation, and for the remainder of his life, twenty-nine years, he was non-effective.

JOSEPH BENSON AKERS was born in Akersville, Pa., February 3, 1829, and at the time of his death, October 27, 1889, was in his sixty-first year. His educational advantages were of a most excellent character, and by a diligent application of his time and energies he acquired a rich store of knowledge, with which, under the guiding and directing influences of the Holy Spirit, he became a polished minister of the Gospel of the Son of God. Immediately after his graduation from Dickinson College, in 1858, he entered the East Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. At Lewisburg he was ordained deacon by Bishop Morris, March 4, 1860. Two years later at Baltimore, March 9, 1862, Bishop Ames ordained him an elder. The following are the appointments which he filled: Shrewsbury, York Springs, Catawissa, Sharpsburg and Clear Spring, Mercersburg, Liberty, Freedom, Port Matilda. In 1871 he was Principal of Catawissa Seminary, and he then filled the following appointments: White Haven, Hiner's Run, Howard, Penn's Valley, Glen Hope, Bellwood, Shrewsbury again. In 1889 he was superannuated. He was assistant secretary of the East Baltimore Conference several years, and when the Central Pennsylvania Conference was formed filled a similar position under Dr. D. S. Monroe, the secretary. His ministerial work ended where it began, at Shrewsbury, York County. After thirty-one years of faithful toil in the Church of his choice he asked a superannuated relation, and removed to his home at Bellwood to enjoy his well-earned rest. But on the 2d of April he was stricken with paralysis, and rallied but slowly through the summer, only to sink peacefully to rest with the falling of the autumn leaves. He was conscious of his approaching departure and had "set his house in order" in every particular. With the words "Praise the Lord," "Almost home," he passed from labor to reward.

ALEM BRITTAIN was born near Light Street, Pa., September 17, 1809, and departed this life at his residence in Bloomsburg, Pa., November 9, 1889. By reason of the hardships of the itinerancy and the burden of fourscore, he had become of late years "such a one as Paul the aged." Yet he was active, his infirmities not preventing locomotion; apparently in his usual health, with the exception latterly of an intense pain about the chest. Not until the morning of the day of his decease, however, was it deemed necessary to call a physician, nor did his condition awaken serious apprehension. But just as the evening shades prevailed the Master called for him, and the light of his life went out with the day. The deceased was married April 6, 1834, to Miss Jemima P. Goodfellow, of Clearfield County, who thenceforth shared his toils, and survives him. Brother Brittain traveled the Philipsburg Circuit, lying then in Center, Clearfield, Indiana, and Elk Counties, the three weeks' round being three hundred miles in extent, and requiring seventeen to twenty sermons, finding his way sometimes by deer and elk paths from one new settlement to another, sometimes swimming his horse through the streams in midwinter, and deprived of the comforts of a fire until having traveled fifteen miles further. His compensation was five dollars per month. He entered the old Baltimore Conference in 1830, and his appointments thereafter were: Concord, Bellefonte, Phillipsburg, Berwick, Hollidaysburg Circuit, superannuated, Sunbury, Milton Circuit, Berwick again, Bellefonte Circuit, Warriors Mark, Huntingdon, Penn's Valley, Lock Haven, Bellefonte Circuit again, West Harford, East Harford, Chambersburg, Carlisle Circuit, chaplain United States Army, superannuated again, Berwick Circuit, Jamesville, Mount Carmel, Espy and Light Street, Beach Haven, Buck Horn, superannuated the third time. In preaching his method was generally expository. His extensive acquaintance with Holy Scriptures, his readiness and accuracy in quoting them, made him a workman that needed not to be ashamed. His manner was affectionate, at times pathetic. His life was consistent. Not of him could it be said when in the pulpit he ought never to come out, and when out he ought never to return. In the homes of the people his presence was a benediction. His communion with the heavenly Father made his presence as if he had just come out from the holy place. He was catholic spirited toward other orthodox communions, noting with interest their generous rivalries, and yet he intelligently and ardently loved the Methodist economy, studied and often ably defended it against all comers. He always knew his place, and was never obtrusive, but when the faith needed a defender his opposer would realize the significance of "the Church militant" and meet a "foeman worthy of his steel." He loved the sanctuary; though somewhat infirm and dull of hearing, his lively interest in the services of his Father's house always prevailed. He was an attentive worshiper. He was present to enjoy the very last Wednesday evening prayer-meeting before his death.

FRANKLIN GEARHART was born June 18, 1821, near Danville, Pa., was converted at the age of eighteen, entered the ministry at twenty-four, continued in active and efficient service until his sixtieth year, died January 31, 1890, in his sixty-ninth year. The loss of his good mother had quite an influence in turning his mind to a religious life. Brother Gearhart's mind was active, and more interested in the study of the Bible than of any other book. His educational advantages were limited to the common schools, and to an academic training at Berwick, Pa. He entered the Baltimore Conference in 1845. In the division of the Baltimore Conference in 1857 Brother Gearhart became a member of the East Baltimore Conference. In the division of the East Baltimore Conference in 1868 he became a member of the Central Pennsylvania Conference. His appointments were: Alleghany Circuit, Md.; Huntingdon, Lewistown Circuit, Williamsburg, Bald Eagle, Wrightsville, Gettysburg, Summerfield, Md.; Mifflin Circuit, Lewistown Circuit again, Northumberland, Bloomsburg, Milton Circuit, Catawissa, New Bloomfield, Hanover, Watsontown, supernumerary, Hughesville, Orangeville, Watsontown again, Catawissa again, Montoursville, Loyalsock, and to the close of his life supernumerary. He was a good man, a good preacher, and an efficient worker. He achieved great success on Mifflin Circuit, Lewistown, Bloomsburg, Catawissa, Northumberland, and New Bloomfield. Many conversions and additions to the Church blessed his labors in these fields. On Catawissa Circuit a heavy debt was canceled. On Milton Circuit a new church was organized. On Bloomsburg Circuit there were many conversions and a greatly strengthened charge. It was under his pastorate that Bloomsburg and Espy, together with Light Street, became separate charges. At New Bloomfield the church received about eighty accessions, and became greatly strengthened. During his supernumerary relation he preached, at times regularly, and then as he was able. About two years before his death he was stricken with a slight sun-stroke, from the effects of which he never fully recovered. On Monday, January 27, he was taken with influenza. During Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, he seemed to hold his own against the disease, but on Friday he rapidly grew worse, and fell into the sleep of death a little after midnight. Only to the redeemed of the Lord does the sepulcher become a crystal window, through which there flashes upon the soul the coming glory of the kingdom of God. "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." He was married in 1854. His wife, four sons, and a daughter survive him. One son is a member of the Central New York Conference.

JAMES T. WILSON was born near Salona, Pa., October 22, 1834, and departed this life in Duncannon, Pa., February 27, 1890, aged fifty-six years. The home of his childhood and youth was most conducive to a life of piety. As exemplary Christians and fervent Methodists the praise of his parents was in all the churches. With such careful training 'tis not surprising that he was early converted to God, and ever after lived a consistent life. In 1857 he was recommended for admission on trial into the traveling connection by the Meadville (Erie Conference) Quarterly Conference, and two years later was received into full membership in the East Baltimore Conference. He was married May 23, 1860, to Miss Sophia L. Bollinger, of Millerstown, Pa., who survives him. His was not a monotonous ministry. The work he did was varied in character as it was in the main successful in results. His appointments were as follows: Manor Hill, Newport, Lewistown Circuit, Concord, Mifflin Circuit, Liberty Valley, Great Island, chaplain United States Army, Jersey Shore, Mifflinburg, Weatherly, Salladasburg, Riverside, White Haven, Third Street, Williamsport; Simpson Church, Duncannon, Mount Holly. In the pulpit he was animated, fervent, forcible, clear. Some of his sermons were characterized by genuine eloquence; all were cogent presentations of the truth, well adapted to awaken and edify. As a pastor he was sympathetic and faithful. He was as much loved for his pastoral visiting as he was admired for his pulpit efforts. He was a warm friend, genial companion, manly man. The courage and patriotism that made him a loyal and devoted servant of his country, which he loved only less than the Church—leading to enlistment as lieutenant, subsequent capture, then rescue and appointment as chaplain of the Two Hundred and Seventh Pennsylvania Volunteers from September, 1864, to July, 1865—characterized him through life and distinguished him as an intelligent and conscientious citizen. At length came the closing hours of his life-day. Like a winter day the twilight shadows gathered in the afternoon. In September of last year heart failure occasioned him great trouble, so that for a brief period he sought relief and rest by a short recess spent in Duncannon. He began to improve, and the advice of his friends to continue his recess until Conference was therefore disregarded. He could not bear the thought of ceasing the work he loved so well—proclaiming the "unsearchable riches of Christ." Accordingly he returned to his charge and resumed his pastoral duties. Not long after his return to Mount Holly a recurrence of his disease compelled him in December to resign his charge, and in a feeble condition he found a home with his son. Soon after he took his bed, and for a while hope alternated with fear as to the probable outcome. Eagerly he desired to recover sufficiently to attend the session of our Conference. But such was not the Father's will. He failed gradually until the close of January or the beginning of February, when he was the recipient of a special baptism of divine power, and realized in a remarkable degree the divine presence. Two days before his death, while at his bedside, a lady friend remarked that she took delight in Brother Wilson's singing of the hymn, "How happy every child of grace," etc. It was sung. The question was asked, "Does he understand it now? Is he conscious of the hymn?" With great effort speech came, and he said, "How happy!" as if to assure them. He peacefully fell asleep in Jesus

Missouri Conference.

ARAD S. LAKIN was born in Delaware County, N. Y., May 7, 1810, and died in Rockport, Mo., January 21, 1890. Brother Lakin was converted to God in his eighteenth year, and was admitted into the New York Conference in 1835. In 1837 he married Achsah Newton, who proved herself a fit helpmeet and source of inspiration to him in all his trials and triumphs. In 1855 he was transferred by Bishop Ames to the North Indiana Conference, where he labored until the breaking out of the War of the Rebellion, when he enlisted as a private, but soon rose to be chaplain of his regiment, which position he held until the close of the war. On his return from marching with Sherman to the sea he united with the Cincinnati Conference. When the call came from the scattered flock in the South for "help" Brother Lakin responded, and was appointed by Bishop Clark to this dangerous field, where he labored successfully amid almost insurmountable obstacles and appalling dangers. He represented the Alabama Conference in the General Conference of 1872, and the Central Alabama Conference in 1884. When asked how he escaped so many dangers, he replied, "I have always believed a man immortal until his work is done." His wife used to say that "so many prayers stood between him and the bullets that they could not reach him." When nominated for United States marshall of northern Alabama with a salary of ten thousand dollars per year he promptly declined, saying, "I have given my life to God and the Church and I cannot appropriate any portion of it to myself." Sister Lakin fell asleep in Jesus in 1883, and in 1887 Brother Lakin followed his family to Missouri, and, uniting with our Conference, was appointed to Rockport Charge, and in 1889 to Watson Charge where he served faithfully until he fell, as he had so often desired, "at his post and with the harness on." His last words were, "I know that I am nearing my heavenly home." Brave, generous, warm-hearted, he had many friends. The history of his work in the South has never been written—probably never will be—but it was of the heroic kind. Only a man of faith and courage could have filled his place.
